Preface

When I took up finding my ancestors in November 1994, I just wanted to find out from where they came. I barely knew who my grandparents were and I didn't know anything about my great grandparents. I did have one thing on my side. I had an Aunt, my father's sister Fay who might remember some of the past that I could began my search. She was 92 years old when I began to question her. She really didn't know exactly where her father was born but she knew the family lived in Grundy County, Missouri when he was growing up. On my Grandmother's side there was an extensive family of her only brother and sibling that lived on Whidby Island, Washington, not too far from where I lived. Aunt Fay knew her mother was born in Trenton, Missouri and she had quite a few pictures she gave me. I introduced my self to the LDS Family History Center near where I live. The US census were a great help and when I found information and shared it with my Aunt Fay it would often jog her memory about the names of siblings of her father. I found quite a bit on my father's maternal side at the LDS but with a name of Alvis King and a birthplace of North Carolina I had a time finding out about his ancestors. I finally found the County of Stokes where he was born, his father's name was James and I discovered another ancestor that had a copy of the family Bible used by the James King family. The first entry stated that James King was the son of John King and his wife Elizabeth. I searched for five years for John King and was unsuccessful. I am publishing what I did discover but I still don't know if the King heritage is from the British Isles or from Germany. James King married a girl whose heritage was from Ireland, his son Alvis also married a girl with Irish heritage. But the families seemed to frequently live in areas that were predominantly Germanic. I am hoping many descendants will see this write up and will contact me with any missing information they can contribute.

My research was devoted entirely to the period 1790-1990. I do have information on some of the Sherman collateral lines back in the 1600's. There is room for further research and verification on all lines. This family history has been compiled by a very amateur genealogist that enjoyed the mystery of the search and accomplishing what she did. Hopefully, this is just the first edition of the KING Family History and from this will come information from many other descendants to make it a more complete family history.

Several persons from across the United States have given generous assistance on several of the lines. My profound gratitude goes to all who have contributed to making this book possible. The most gratitude goes to my husband, R. L. Buzz Bower, who not only chauffeured me around the United States in our RV to many large and small county court houses, libraries and cemeteries to gather this information, but who has done a fabulous job of scanning all the photos, certificates and maps to help me get this family history camera ready for publishing.

Pilot Mountain, North Carolina

The Pilot Mountain, called by the Indians Jomeokee, meaning Great Guide, is located in the southeastern corner of Surry County. Pilot Mountain is 2700 feet above sea level. The majestic pinnacle rises 1400 feet above the surrounding terrain. Pilot Mountain is densely wooded and crowned by a mammoth monolith about a mile in circumference, standing 200 feet above its main body and called The Pinnacle. The total mountain consists of over 1000 acres. The Yadkin River is in a part of the Pilot River State Park, which includes 3703 acres in both Surry and Yadkin Counties. When the James King's children were growing up they probably saw the Pilot Mountain daily from the town of Pinnacle and surrounding countryside. The cemetery where the above picture was taken is the United Methodist Cemetery in the town of Pinnacle.

John King

First Generation

In the family Bible of James King, John King and his wife Elizabeth were designated as the parents of James King, born in 1796. (Ref. 1) In a paper written by Isaac Martin Gordon in 1910, he stated that James who married Barzillah Gordon was the son of John King who first settled the J. Gideon Gordon place in Stokes County, raising a family, and residing there about 40 years prior to the time it came into the possession of Martin Gordon. (Ref. 2) This property was taken up from the state of North Carolina by this John King, who sold it to John Gordon, father of Martin Gordon for about $350. He moved to the "Bill Snyder Place" (called in 1910) where he lived until his death. The "Bill Snyder Place" was part of what was formerly the J. Quincy A. King place near Pinnacle, Stokes county, North Carolina. A daughter of John Quincy Adams King, Mary Jane married William Neeley Snyder (Bill Snyder). A check of the land records in Stokes County showed an indenture to John Gordon by John King and witnessed by James King on 10 March 1829. (Ref.3) No wife signed the land transaction which could indicate either divorced or deceased as she no longer needed dower rights. In the Stokes County Tax lists John King and James King were in the Richmond District and in 1835 John King was no longer on the list. James King was not on the 1837 list. (Ref. 4)

James and his family moved to Greene County, Indiana about 1838. Already living in Greene County, Indiana was a Martha King born about 1802 who had married a James Stone, both of them originally from North Carolina, James from Surry County and Martha possibly from Stokes County. Her parents were noted as John and Elizabeth King of Stokes County, North Carolina. (Ref. 5) They were married 16 Jun 1824 in North Carolina. (Ref. 6) They were reported to have gone to Greene County, Indiana in 1829 with his parents. Was Martha King Stone a sister to James King?

In the 1810 census in Stokes County, NC a John King was listed with 1 male under 10, 1 male 10 to 16, 1 male 26 to 45, 3 females under 10 and 1 female 26 to 45. If this is the correct John King, James had a younger brother and 3 younger sisters. (Ref.7)

James King of Stokes County, NC
Late 1700's

James F. King was born on 30 Nov 1796 in Stokes County, North Carolina. His mother, Elizabeth, as well as his father, John King were noted in a family Bible he and his wife purchased in 1830 and kept family history information. (Ref. 1) We don't know much about James's childhood since we haven't been able to find anything about John and Elizabeth. The first we are able to document the King family history is when James King applied for a marriage bond to Barzillah Gordon. Barzillah was the daughter of John and Barzillah Martin Gordon born 18 Feb 1799 in Pinnacle, Stokes County, NC. James and Barzillah were married on 13 Aug 1819. (Ref. 6) James is on the tax lists for Stokes County as early as 1821. (Ref. 4) They lived near the Surry - Stokes county line in view of Pilot Mountain. James and Barzillah King had eight children: Martin born 9 July 1820; Constant Garret born 10 Sept 1821; Louisa Jean born 16 Aug 1823; Augustin Moor born 9 July 1825; Alvis Martin born 22 June 1827; Martha Caroline born 13 July 1829; Albert Hill born 30 Oct 1832; and James Franklin, Junior born 19 Nov 1836. (Ref. 1)

The free state of Indiana began to attract the attention of many of the southern mountaineers. The slave labor and utter lack of any educational opportunities prompted many of these mountain people to move to Indiana where almost free land and free schools were provided. This they could not have and compete with the slave labor of the south. (Ref. 8) Starting in 1829, there was a mass movement of people from North Carolina to Greene and Monroe Counties in Indiana. The reports kept coming back to the people left in North Carolina how wonderful it was. The James King family started planning to move, selling their land in Stokes County, and packed up in October 1838 after the crops were all harvested. For weeks before they left Stokes County, they sold every thing they felt they could do without to lighten the load. We assume they must have hauled everything they could in wagons, carts and on horseback. They traveled with two Spainhower brothers northwest along the Cumberland Gap in Tennessee and on up through Kentucky. There was a ferry available to cross the Ohio River into Indiana. The children had to walk beside the wagons as they traveled.

It took six weeks to get to Greene County, Indiana over and around mountains, hills and streams. James King had friends and relatives already there so the King's settled in Greene County, Indiana. The Spainhowers went on to Owen County, Indiana. (Ref. 9) The older children had to help their father, James King, construct some kind of shelter for the family as winter was coming on quickly. They probably were able to stay with friends and relatives until their dwelling was ready. Another family from Surry County, North Carolina, the Sherwood McCraws lived nearby. It is thought that the McCraws came a year or two before the Kings and they were the friends they stayed with until they could move into their own house.

Son Constant found a wife in Monroe County in 1841. He married Joanna Carmichael on 18 Nov. Joanna's family had migrated to Indiana about 10 years earlier. (Ref. 12) Fourteen months later Constant died leaving a five month old son and his wife. (Ref. 1) The McCraws had a daughter, Sarah that was two years older than their son, Alvis King. Sarah's parents moved to Owen County, where an older brother had purchased land. Alvis left home when he was 18 years old and went to Owen County to work. He and Sarah were married on 22 Jan 1846. (Ref. 13) Alvis did not go back to Greene County. Son, Augustin married Joanna Carmichael's cousin Sarah Elizabeth Carmichael in 1847, a year after Alvis's marriage to Sarah McCraw. (Ref. 14, 15) Martha Caroline married John Walker Evans on 30 Jul 1849, Albert Hill married Rachel Hostetter on 15 Oct 1857 and James Franklin married Sarah Nellinger 31 Jul 1856.

In the Center Township, Greene County, Indiana James King and his children, except Alvis, resided over 30 years. On 17 March 1871 Barzillah died and was buried in the Carmichael Cemetery, Greene County, Indiana. In 1875 son James F. King, Sarah and children decided to move to Nodaway County, Missouri. Their two older sons, Jacob age 17, and William age 12, traveled by wagon train, transporting the family's possessions to the new location. The rest of the family including grandfather, James, Senior who was 79 years old, followed by train. (Ref. 11) James King, Sr lived until 5 March 1882. In 1937 one of the descendants visited the Carmichael Cemetery and noted James King, Sr was buried there as well as Barzillah King. (Ref. 19) His grave was not found in Nodaway County Hopkins Cemetery and cannot be found in the Carmichael Cemetery anymore. By 1882 railroad trains were used a great deal and his body could have been returned to Greene County, Indiana to be buried beside Barzillah in the Carmichael Cemetery in Center Township, Greene County, Indiana. (Ref. 20) and he that is righteous let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

Nothing may be added to the word, CHAP. XXII.
12 And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.
13 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.
14 Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.
15 For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.
16 I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star.
17 And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.
18 For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book:
19 And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.
20 He which testifieth these things saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus.
21 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

SOME KING OBITUARIES

SARAH NELLINGER KING

Sarah Nellinger was born July 10, 1836 and died Oct. 17, 1914, aged 78 years, 3 months and 7 days. She was married to Jas. F. King July 31, 1856. She leaves a husband and three children., William F. , of Hopkins, MO, Andrew H., and Mrs. Rosa Buzzard, of Pickering, MO. Four children preceded her to the grave. Eleven grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren, and many other relatives and friends are left to mourn their loss.

She had received a hope in Christ many years ago, and was a strong believer in the doctrine of grace, but had never united with the church. The remains were conveyed to the Workman Chapel followed by a host of friends, where I tried to speak words of comfort to the living, after which the body was laid to rest in the cemetery near by to await the Master's call. William Franklin King was born August 13, 1863 near Stanford, Ind. and passed away at his home in Hopkins, MO. Nov 29, 1945, aged 85 years, three months and 27 days.

He was the son of the late James F. and Sarah Nellinger King. At the age of 13 years, Mr. King and his brother, Jake King, who was 17 years old, drove a team and wagon from Indiana to Missouri along with a train of immigrants. They brought their household goods while the remainder of the family came through on the train.

The King family settled on a farm in the Lily White school district, south of Clearmont, MO. They lived there for one year, then moved to the Sunrise neighborhood north of Maryville, where Mr. King grew to manhood.

On March 4, 1883 he married Emma Buzzard, who survived him. To this union were born four children, Mrs. Delia Baldwin of the home, Harry A. of Maryville, Edgar F. who died July3, 1943 and a daughter who died in infancy.

Alvis Martin King

Third Generation

Alvis Martin King on 22 June 1827 was the fifth child and the fourth son born to James and Barzillah Gordon King in Stokes County, North Carolina. (Ref. 1) As a child, Alvis learned to read and write and possibly play on Pilot Mountain.. When he was 11 years old the family packed up in October 1838 and traveled with two Spainhower brothers northwest along the Cumberland Gap toward Greene County, Indiana. (Ref. 9) For weeks before they left Stokes County, they sold every thing they felt they could do without to lighten the load. Most of the children had to walk beside the wagons as they traveled. It took six weeks to get to Greene County. James King had friends and relatives already there so the King's settled in Greene County, Indiana. The Spainhower's went on to Owen County, Indiana. Alvis and his brothers had to help their father, James King, construct some kind of shelter for the family as winter was coming on quickly. The winters in Indiana were more harsh than in North Carolina. They probably were able to stay with friends and relatives until their dwelling was ready. Alvis had a sister and 2 brothers younger than he. The little brothers were seven and two years old. The youngest, James Franklin, Jr, was only a toddler and the other children no doubt helped to look after him on the long trek to Indiana. Another family from Surry County, North Carolina, the McCraws lived nearby. It is thought that the McCraws came a year or two before the Kings and they were friends they stayed with until they could move into their own house.

The McCraws had a daughter, Sarah that was two years older than Alvis King. Sarah and her parents moved to Owen County, where an older brother had purchased land. Alvis left home when he was 18 years old and went to Owen County to work. He and Sarah were married on 22 Jan 1846. (Ref. 13) Two weeks prior to Sarah and Alvis's birth of their first child, a son, Sarah's father, Sherwood McCraw died on 27 Jan 1847. William was born on 10 Feb 1847. (Ref. 1) Sarah's older brother by eight years died on 17 February 1848 when baby William, his namesake, was just one year old. Alvis purchased on 2 June 1848, 39 acres of the 79 acres the deceased William McCraw had purchased in 1840. (Ref. 3) At the time Alvis was farming and no doubt William's heirs needed help with the planting and harvesting.

Their second son, James Albert, was born on 11 Dec 1848. By the U.S. census in 1850, Alvis and Sarah had packed up their two little boys and moved to Franklin County, Missouri. Sarah's two brothers, George W. and Pleasant McCraw, and two sisters, Elizabeth McCraw Stone and Mary McCraw Walsh, were living there with their families. The four families may have banded together and came at the same time. Sarah's mother, Nancy McCraw was neither in the Franklin County, MO nor the Owen County, IN census for 1850.

Sarah and Alvis had their third son, John Wesley, on 28 Mar 1851. He obviously was not in the 1850 U.S census but his birth showed up in the James King Bible back in Greene County, Indiana. When it was time for the 1860 census, he was not in it either so we conclude that during that 8 ½ years he died. When, we don't know. Nancy McCraw, Sarah's mother, died in Franklin County on 12 Aug 1852. Where she is buried is not known but her son-in-law, Armistead Stone, Elizabeth's husband, and John W. Miller testified they assisted in burying Nancy Wheat McCraw and were present at her burial at a request for Federal Grant land for an underage heir (Ref. 21)

On 12 Nov 1853, Alvis's fourth son, George W., was born . Sarah and Alvis had a very happy event happen to them in 1858: their first daughter was born. They named her Martha Elizabeth. By the time she was a young lady she was known as Bettie. Sometime before 1860,

Alvis and Sarah moved to New Haven, Franklin County situated along the Missouri River. The Missouri Pacific railroad, in its infancy, was building a railroad line west along the river to take the cargo from the riverboats and distribute it. Alvis went to work for the railroad. As the work progressed it was necessary for Alvis and Sarah to relocate to Osage County, MO. Fifth son, Augustin, was born in Feb 1860. After the census they moved to Osage County, where Alvis bought forty acres of land. He was obviously farming as well as working for the railroad.

The Civil War broke out in April of 1861. The railroad was a strategic part of the war and Alvis did not go to war. Two years after the war broke out, Walter Newton King was born on 17 April 1863. Sarah and Alvis now had five living sons and one daughter . Two and one half years later Sarah gave birth to her eighth child, Norval H. King, in Oct 1865. Son, Walter, told his children years later that his mother died of complications of this childbirth. Alvis was left with a new baby, a toddler, a five year old son, a 8 year old daughter and three older sons. The oldest being 18 1/2, William may have left home by this time.

Alvis went to work for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, in the town of Chamois on the Missouri River, which located a freight division and Division Headquarters with a round house, coal chutes and water storage tanks there. Stockyards were constructed in Chamois where cattle were unloaded from eastbound trains, watered, fed, rested and reloaded en route to St. Louis. In July 1867, Alvis King was remarried to a lady 20 years younger than he, Clarissa Brown. (Ref. 22) In 1870 Alvis's son, James married, and was also working for the railroad. (Ref. 23) Older son William was working as a farm laborer in Montgomery County and had married Catherine Ritter on 1 July 1869.

Alvis and Clarissa King proceeded to have three sons and a daughter by 1874, Thomas Morgan born 27 February 1869, Edith born ca 1871, Frederick born ca 1872 and Everett born 1874. The second son, Frederick, died in childhood. In 1875, Bettie King got married and left the household. Son, Walter was small in stature and as a teenager his stepmother made him help with the housework since his sister Bettie was no longer there to help. Walter felt his stepmother was trying to make a girl out of him so he ran away. At 16 years of age he went to work for a riverboat captain. The captain befriended this small young man and gave Walter the job of crew cook and taught him all he needed to know. (Ref. 23) On 23 Dec 1883, Alvis and Clarissa gave birth to their 6th child, an unnamed boy. The record in the courthouse stated Clarissa's maiden name to be McBride. In the 1870 census there was a young woman named Susan McBride, age 21, who was living in the Alvis King household. She was thought to be a sister until the marriage record gave Clarissa's name as Brown. Since no records were kept after 1883, it was impossible to find out about the fifth child and it's fate.

In August of 1890 Alvis and Clarissa King had some land transactions in Chamois, Missouri. There is no 1890 census available to determine who was still living with the parents. By 1900 the family had disappeared from Chamois, Missouri. Alvis King was in Jefferson County, Colorado, according to the census. (Ref. 24) He was listed as being a widower. Clarissa King's fate is not known. Alvis was 72 years old at the time. The author has not determined when and where he died. Thomas King had married and moved to Colorado. Edith and Everret's destiny is also not known.

Alvis King's Children

William Franklin King was born 10 Feb 1847 in Owen County, Indiana. His maternal grandfather died just before he was born and his maternal uncle, William McCraw, died when he was a year old. Before he was 3 years old, the family that included another son, James, moved to Franklin County, Missouri. In the 1850 census, two of his mother's brothers and their families and two of her married sisters were living in Franklin County, Missouri also. Alvis's family lived there over 10 years before moving to Osage County, Missouri when Alvis became active in the railroad expansion along the Missouri River. When William was 18 years old his mother died after having given birth to her eighth child. It was probably about this time William left home and went to work as a farm laborer in neighboring Montgomery County on the north side of the Missouri River. When he was 22 years old (1869) he married Katie, the 17-year-old daughter of French immigrant, Florent Ritter who owned land in southern Montgomery County. By 1880 William and Katie had 3 children and were living in Chamois, Osage County and William was working on a boat. What happened to the family after that is not known. The census records of Missouri, Colorado, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas were searched for 1900 and 1910 to no avail.

James Albert King was born 11 Dec 1848 in Owen County, Indiana and moved to Franklin County, Missouri when he was a little over one year old. When James was about 12 years old the family moved to Osage County where his father was working for the expanding railroad system along the Missouri River. He was about 17 years old when his mother, Sarah McCraw King died. In 1870 he was working for the railroad and married a girl named Susan. His father had married again in 1867 and had a half-brother for the family. In 1872, Susan gave birth to a daughter, Etta King. A son was born in 1880 and they named him Eugene E. King. In the 1900 census they were living in Osage Township, Camden County, Missouri. Etta had left home and Eugene was still living with James and Susan. James occupation on the 1900 census was Farmer. The census records after that turned up no trace of the family.

John Wesley King was born 28 Mar 1851 in Franklin County, Missouri according to the KING Family Bible. He did not appear on the 1860 census so must have died before the census was taken. His death did not appear in the family Bible, but neither did the births of Alvis's children born after George King.

George Washington King was born 12 Nov 1853 in Franklin County, Missouri. George was just old enough to go to school when the family moved to Osage County, Missouri. He was about 13 years old when his mother died. A little over a year later his father married a woman 20 years his junior. George left home after 1870 and his whereabouts is not known until 1910 when he was in the 1910 census in Haverlock (a then suburb of Lincoln), Nebraska. According to the census in 1910 he married Mary Elizabeth in 1875, where is unknown. They had at least four sons. The youngest, Vernon C., died of leukemia in 1907 at the age of 17. The oldest, Homer, married in 1904 and moved to York, Nebraska where he worked as landscape gardener and his wife as a landscape architect. George died in 1932 and Mary Elizabeth died in 1935. The third son, Guy C., died on 15 September 1933. He had married Frances Gray and worked in the railroad shops as a machinist. Son, Delmar moved to Denver, Colorado by 1936 and he and his wife Minnie lived there through 1960 when they ceased to be in the Denver City Directory. Del worked as an insurance agent until 1957 when he probably retired.

Elizabeth Martha King (nicknamed Bettie) was born in March 1857 in Franklin County, Missouri. When the family moved to Osage County she was only 3 years old. When her mother died she was 8 years old. She was hardly old enough to care for an infant and a toddler that her mother left behind. It is not known how Alvis managed to care for the family until he remarried in July 1867. Bettie married Eugene Smith in 1875. What happened to the marriage is not known but she married the second time to James W. Walls in September 1883 and they had 4 sons in 10 years. James Walls worked his way up to a foreman on the railroad in Las Animas County, Colorado. He invented the Frogless Switch used by the railroad and sold stock in the Walls Frogless Switch and Manufacturing Company. His brother-in-law, Walter King purchased 100 shares in 1911 and his grand-daughter has the stock certificate. Son, Grover Walls was born in July 1886 in Missouri and died at the age of 51 in Kansas City, Missouri. It is not known if he and his wife, Lauretta had any children. Guy M. Walls was born in November 1888 in Missouri, and was living in Aurora, Illinois when his brother, Grover died in 1937. Guy married Ophelia (last name unknown) and had at least one son. James Denver Walls was born in Nov 1889 in Las Animas County, Colorado. In 1916 he married Ethel McGill. Youngest son, George A. Walls was born in January 1893 in Las Animas County, Colorado. No more information has been found about George after the 1910 census in Trinidad, Las Animas, Colorado when he worked as a soda mixer in a drug store at the age of 17. Bettie King Walls had a boarding house in the 1900 census with 13 boarders. James Walls died on 11 Nov 1919 and was found in Kansas City, Missouri. Bettie Walls lived a little more than 6 years longer than James before she died in Sandwich, Illinois and was buried in Kansas City, Missouri, beside James at the Elmwood Cemetery where Grover was buried 11 years later.

Augustin King (nicknamed Gus) was born in February 1860 in Franklin County, Missouri and was the sixth child born to Alvis and Sarah King.. He was less than a year old when the family moved to Osage County, Missouri. When Gus was 5 or 6 years old his mother died, leaving toddler, Walter and infant, Norval. It was about a year and a half before his father married again, a wife 20 years younger than he. When Gus was 9 years old his stepmother, Clarissa had a son, named Thomas. By the time Gus was 20 years old he had left the household of his father. He wasn't found until 1889 in Pueblo County, Colorado where he married Jennie May Domire. He was working for the United Pacific Railroad in Trinidad, Las Animas County, Colorado. As the railroad grew he moved to Jefferson County, Colorado. They had a daughter, Elsie born in 1895 and a son, Richard born in 1900 in Jefferson County. Augustin died on the 2nd of March 1948 and Jennie lived 2 months longer dying on 13 May 1948. Both are buried in the Littleton Cemetery, Littleton, Colorado.

Norval H. King was born in October 1865 in Osage County, Missouri and was the 7th child and last child born to Sarah McCraw King. His mother died shortly after he was born. Sometime after 1880 he left his father's home. He was in Trinidad, Las Animas County, Colorado in the 1892 City Directory. In the 1910 US Census it gives info that Norval and Juanita (Wahnita) Owen were married in 1890. They had son, Arthur Dillard in August 1891 in Colorado. Norval was a brakeman and conductor for the C & S Railroad for about 40 years, dying in 1932.

Thomas Morgan was born 27 Feb 1869 in Chamois, Osage County, Missouri and was the first born to Alvis' second wife. Not much is known about him. He married Matilda Bloomer on 16 Nov 1893 and moved to Pueblo County, Colorado by March 1899 where his first born was killed by lightning. By 1910 he was in Texas, working on a railroad construction crew. He had five children, 3 boys and 2 girls. Two of the boys died in childhood. Thomas died at age 67 in Paris, Texas. Matilda lived another 16 years, dying in Paris, Texas also.

Edith was born in 1871. Nothing more is known about her except in the 1880 US census.

Everett was born in 1874. Nothing more is known about him except in the 1880 US census.

The KINGS in the History of the Railroads in the United States

The first locomotive was brought to America in 1829. Competing railroads began appearing in the eastern part of the U.S. in the 1840's and the first railroad reached Chicago in 1850. The first train to reach the banks of the Mississippi River arrived February 22 1854 in Rock Island, Illinois. Sleeping cars were introduced in 1856 and the rails were made of steel instead of iron in 1863. On May 10, 1869 the westward building Union Pacific met the eastward building Central Pacific Railroad at Promontory Point, Utah. During the mid-1880's the width of the tracks was standardized at 4 feet 8 ½ inches. Now passengers no longer had to take the time to switch trains because of the tracks.

Railroads began in North Carolina in the 1830's. A line from Wilmington to Weldon and from Raleigh to Gaston were completed in 1840. In Indiana the railroad lines were begun in the 1850's, with work started in earnest on the westward movement. The Missouri Pacific Railroad began surveying in 1850.

Alvis King moved with his family to Franklin County, Missouri in 1850, and to the New Haven area on the Missouri River before 1860. Shortly after the 1860 U.S. census they moved to Osage County, Missouri as the railroad was advancing west along the Missouri River and Alvis King was working for the railroad as a road crew member laying track. Alvis ended up in Chamois, Osage County, Missouri where the Missouri Pacific built, starting in 1873, a Division Headquarters; a round house where engines could be turned around; 155 stalls where locomotives and cars could be stored; coal chutes 795 feet long and a water tank both accessible by spur tracks from both sides plus a cinder pit to service the coal-burning steam locomotives. A stockyard and an access to the Missouri River by track were added to facilitate transporting products to the east through St. Louis. The Division Headquarters was moved in 1896 to Jefferson City (the capital of Missouri) and the round house in 1901. By around 1890 at least three of Alvis King's eight sons went to Colorado and one went to Nebraska to work in the railroad business. At least one other son went to Colorado by 1900.

The Kings in the History of the Railroads in the United States (continued)

Alvis, 72 years old was living in Jefferson County, Colorado in the 1900 U.S. census. The railroad hub at Chamois, Missouri was being dismantled and its importance had diminished. Alvis King's son, Augustin was working in Jefferson County, Colorado.

Meanwhile the city of Pueblo, Colorado was active in getting Pueblo designated as a major terminus for the railroads to connect with north and south cities and east and west cities. They started in 1872 after the nation was connected in Utah in 1869. Pueblo was open to railroad traffic in 1876, Alvis King's sons, Augustin, Walter and Norval were working for the Santa Fe Railroad in Trinidad, Colorado in 1892 on the Santa Fe Trail route from Kansas to Santa Fe, New Mexico. Augustin migrated to northern Colorado, Walter and his son ended up with the railroads in Pueblo and Norval remained in Trinidad, Colorado.

Thomas Morgan King migrated to Colorado in 1899. By 1910 he had moved to Texas working as a construction crew foreman for the railroads.

Walter Newton King

Third Generation

On the 17th of April 1863 in Osage County, Missouri Walter Newton King was born the 7th child of Alvis M. and Sarah McCraw King. The Civil War in the U S was in full force and his father was working for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, which was in its infancy. Just two and a half years later his brother, Norval, was born and his mother died as a result. By this time the oldest two children (boys) were 17 and 18 years old. How Alvis managed with 7 children we'll never know but he remarried in July 1867 Clarissa Brown, who was 20 years his junior. (Ref. 22) By 1874 they had four more children, giving Alvis a total of 12, 10 boys and 2 girls. Two boys died in early childhood. The oldest girl, who was 5 years older than Walter, married and started a home of her own. Since the youngest girl was 6 years younger than Walter she couldn't help her mother with the housework. Walter was always of small stature, being 5 ft 6 inches as an adult, and so his stepmother gave him housework tasks to do, which he resented. He told his daughter, Fay, years later that when he was 16 years old he ran away and got a job on a river boat (either the Missouri or Osage River) because his step-mother was trying to make a girl of him. The riverboat captain befriended this small young man and taught him to cook for the crew. Years later he would teach his bride to cook.

When Walter left the riverboats and went to work for the railroad is not known. It has been said that sons followed their fathers in the railroad business and in this case it sure seems true. In 1892 he and his brothers, Augustin and Norval were in Trinidad, Colorado as conductors and brakeman for the railroads, two of them for the United Pacific and Walter, as a conductor for the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe. Walter met Roselle Sherman, a young lady of 16 years and began to court her. Her mother, Frances Sherman and father, Henry Sherman were separated and her younger brother, William Sherman, left town with her father in April 1892. Her mother divorced her father and married William J. Bowlden in March 1893. Roselle and Walter were married in July 1893 with her new stepfather, Will Bowlden, and Walter's brother, Gus, as witnesses. Eleven months later, Roselle bore her first child, a son named Earl Wayne. Walter and Roselle set up housekeeping in a small town, Raton, just inside the New Mexico border on the south side of the Raton Pass. Walter had a railroad route from Raton to La Junta, Colorado that was along the Santa Fe Trail. Earl was the delight of his father as well as his maternal grandmother. Walter, Roselle and Earl were in a small town, Picton, Huerfano County, Colorado in the 1900 U. S. Census and were living in Pueblo 2 years later. About August 1902 Roselle took 8 year old Earl and went to stay with her mother in the mining town of Sophris, prior to her delivery and remained until the baby, a daughter they named Fay Lenora, was born on 13 September 1902 and became strong enough to go home. Roselle's stepfather, William Bowlden, was the manager of the Mining Company store there. Walter went to work as a switchman for the Denver and Rio Grande Western (D&RGW) Railroad when they moved to Pueblo. Five years later he became a brakeman, a position he held the rest of his life. In 1914 Walter's son, Earl, followed him into working for the D & R G W Railroad as a switchman.

Walter and family lived on the south side of the town of Pueblo mostly in an area called the "blocks". Both of the children went to the Carlile Grade School. At 16 years, Earl went to work for the railroad. When Fay went to work, it was as a music teacher at the Schwinger School of Music. In 1925 Walter and Roselle purchased a home at 418 W. Abriendo. Roselle's mother had been widowed in 1921 and she was living with them, as well as the children when they were not married and living with their spouses. Earl's first wife, Gladys, died five years after the first grandchild, a boy, died in 1921 at 4 days old. Every one was very sad. Earl met a divorcee, Hazel Hall Philhour, and married her in July of 1929.

In November of 1929, Walter's mother-in-law, Clara Frances Bowlden, died and Roselle and Walter shared their house only with their daughter, Fay. In March 1931 Earl's wife was expecting their first child. The grandparents-to-be were very excited. Walter fell ill and died of a heart attack on the 29th day of March, 1931, 4 1/2 months before the grand daughter was born. Walter was buried in the Mountain View Cemetery on the southern outskirts of Pueblo where Earl's first wife and son, and maternal grandmother were buried.

Earl Wayne King

Fourth Generation

Earl Wayne King was born 5 June 1894 at the house of Clara Bowlden, his maternal Grandmother, in Trinidad, Colorado. His father, Walter King, was working for the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad as a conductor on the run between Raton, New Mexico and La Junta, Colorado along the Santa Fe Trail. According to letters his grandmother, Clara Bowlden, wrote to his Uncle Billy in the state of Washington, the family lived in Raton, N.M. through 1896. In the 1900 U.S. census for Picton, Huerfano County in Colorado, Roselle, Walter and Earl were living there. In 1902, Walter King was registered in the Pueblo, Colorado City Directory as a switchman for the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad. Before September, Roselle was in Sophris, Huerfano County where her daughter, Fay, was born 13 September 1902.

Earl attended Carlile Grade School through the 8th grade. In the 1914 city directory, Earl was working for the D. & R.G.W. Railroad as a yard switchman. In 1917 he entered the army as a private. In 1918, Fay and Roselle went out to San Francisco to see Earl because he was going to be shipped to the fighting in Europe. Just before he was to be shipped overseas, the armistice was declared. He was discharged from the army on 6 Jan 1919 having attained the rank of corporal and went back to work for the railroad and living at home with his parents and sister.

On 30 March 1920 Earl was married to Gladys E. Speer in Colorado Springs, Colorado. Gladys was born 23 April 1899. They set up housekeeping at 155 Block W, Pueblo, Colorado. On 24 April 1921 Gladys gave birth to a baby boy that lived only four days. When Gladys was about 4 months pregnant, the doctor diagnosed her having a tumor in her ovaries. To remove the tumor would mean aborting the infant, which she refused to do. The child, Walter Wayne, was born without a urinary track and died four days later. Gladys lived until 15 December 1926 when she died of cancer. Earl was very upset and moved back with his parents, his sister and maternal grandmother. Earl loved to roller skate and was quite good at it. While skating, he met Hazel Hall Philhour. They were married on 3 July 1929 in Denver, Colorado. Hazel was born Hazel Mary Hall on 10 March 1898 and had married and divorced Frank Philhour. Earl and Hazel set up housekeeping at 818 West 11th Street, Pueblo, Colorado. During November his grandmother, Clara Bowlden, was hospitalized and on 30 November 1929 she died. A year later, Hazel discovered she was pregnant with her first child. Earl's parents were very excited at having their first grandchild to hold. Five months before the baby was born, Earl's father, Walter King, passed away on 29 March 1931, just short of his 68th birthday.

The first daughter, Janet Katherine, was born on 13 August 1931 when the family lived at 829 Jackson, Pueblo, Colorado. Before the second daughter, Vera Lou, was born on 25 January 1933, the family had moved into the house his parents were purchasing at 418 West Abriendo, Pueblo. The Big Depression had set in. Earl's mother and sister moved to Walsenburg to teach piano and violin and Earl took over the mortgage on the house. When Janet was five years old, the mortgage was foreclosed and they had to move out. Earl had a problem with alcoholism, which became progressively worse. The family lived about a year at 126 Tyler. They then lived at 401 Polk for less that a year. They then moved to 301 Quincy, which they rented until World War II, was over in 1945

When World War II started in December 1941, jobs were plentiful. Hazel went to work in an ordnance depot on the outskirts of Pueblo. She filed for divorce in early 1944. Since housing was so hard to come by, Hazel divided the rental house into 2 three-room apartments. Earl and his daughter, Janet, slept in the unfinished basement and Hazel and Vera slept in the one bedroom of one of the apartments. When the World War II was over, Hazel stayed on at the ordnance depot. She had saved for a down payment on a house at 1604 Wabash and the family, minus Earl, moved there.

Earl moved into one room at the Anthony Hotel across from the railroad depot and in the skid row section of town. Hazel kept the furniture and car so Earl only had his clothes. He was able to keep his job in spite of the alcoholism. He never did remarry. Earl didn't see much of his daughters. In September of 1946 he got a Railroad pass for daughter, Janet, to move to the state of Washington at a small town called Port Orchard. She was expecting her mother and sister to move out there as soon as her mother's fiancée built them a brick house. Janet wanted her last 3 years in the same school, so she went to work for her room and board as a mother's helper. Hazel never did marry the fellow in Washington but married Leroy Law, a fellow worker at the ordnance depot. Janet remained in Washington, working her way through school and one year of college. When Janet graduated from high school in 1949, Earl made a trip out to Port Orchard to see his oldest daughter graduate seventh in her class. She was the first one of his immediate family to graduate from high school.

Earl made a trip to North Hollywood, California, after seeing the graduation to visit his mother, sister and brother-in-law, W.W. "Chris" Christopher. Earl wasn't to see Janet again until 1952 when Janet and her husband, (Charles) Tom Robinson made a visit back east to Illinois and they stopped in Pueblo so Tom could meet his father-in-law and they took him out to dinner. Janet was estranged from her mother so they only saw Earl in Pueblo. Vera and her boy friend, Phillip White, met Janet and Tom in Denver for a visit for one day.

In April 1954, Tom had a job in a certified public accounting firm and Janet was working as a draftsman at the Applied Physics Laboratory of the University of Washington. They bought a two-bedroom house in the north suburbs of Seattle, Washington. When Christmas was rolling around, Janet invited Earl to visit them. He came out and spent a week before Christmas. His mother had died on 28 January 1954 so he spent the week after Christmas with his sister and brother-in-law in North Hollywood, California. .

Earl had worked for the railroad for 41 years and he talked about retiring. When he got back to Pueblo, he went back to working as foreman of the switch engine in the yard. On 22 February, he was adjusting an antenna on an automobile on a freight car and he some how fell and was crushed between the loading dock and the train. He lived 23 hours but his internal organs were so badly crushed he didn't have a chance.

Earl's sister, Fay Christopher, and his daughter, Janet Robinson, flew in to Pueblo, Colorado, for his funeral. He was buried in the Mountain View Cemetery with military honors. Davis Mortuary handled his last rites. Earl was liked by everyone. He seemed to be his own worst enemy but he felt he did contribute two lovely daughters to mankind. He didn't live long enough to see the eight grand children his daughters had, five from Vera and three from Janet.

Fay Lenora King Christopher

Fourth Generation

Fay Lenora King was born 13 September 1902 in a little mining town named Sophris in Huerfano County, Colorado. The family, Walter King, his wife, Roselle and son, Earl, lived in Pueblo, Colorado where Walter was a switchman for the Denver Rio & Grande Western railroad. Her grandmother, Frances Clara, and step-grandfather, Will Bowlden, lived in Sophris, where Will was the manager of the company store for the Rockefeller family who owned the mines that supplied coal to the recently built Colorado Fuel and Iron Company which made steel and iron products. Roselle wanted to be with her mother when she had her child, so she and her eight year old Earl went to Sophris and stayed until the baby was born and strong enough to travel. Fay's father, Walter, stayed behind in Pueblo to maintain his job. Fay was a frail baby and quite a delight to her brother as well as her father.

The family moved to 302 Block I, where they lived for a number of years. When Fay was old enough to go to school, she went to Carlile Grade School, which went through the eighth grade. The school, which was built in 1890, was destroyed in a terrible windstorm in 1930. A smaller version with the same name was built on the same site in 1931 and both of Fay's nieces attended grade school at the same site and name where their father and aunt had gone. As a young child Fay took music lessons, learning a great deal from her mother who was an accomplished pianist. Fay studied violin and went on to become a teacher of children in piano and violin.

On 25 May 1925, just before she was 23 years old, Fay married James Richard Hawksworth. The marriage only lasted a little over two years. Both decided it had been a mistake and since no children were involved, they decided to divorce on 8 Nov 1927. Fay moved back home with her parents who now lived in their own home at 418 W. Abriendo in Pueblo. Fay devoted herself to teaching music. Will Bowlden had died in 1921 and Clara Frances (who had reversed her given names) moved in with her daughter Roselle and son-in-law. Grannie lived there until the end of 1929, dying on the 30th of November at the age of 73.

Fay's brother, Earl, had married in 1920, had a son that lived only 4 days in 1921 and lost his wife to cancer in 1926. Earl had gone to work for the same railroad as his father and at the same position that his father held before he became a brakeman. Earl moved back home with his parents after his wife's death until he remarried in 1929. His new wife was expecting their first child when Walter King died in March 1931. Fay and her mother tried to stay in the family home but it was too expensive. Earl and his family moved into the home and Fay and her mother moved to Walsenburg, where Fay taught music. Her mother, Roselle King, also worked as the pianist for the Christian Science Church in Walsenburg, Colorado.

Fay had a very close girl friend that had a male cousin who was a policeman in Hollywood, California, named William Christopher. He had met Fay years previous, and one time when he was visiting his relatives in Colorado he looked her up. Correspondence followed and eventually they were married on 27 September, 1935. Roselle tried to live part of the time each year with each one of her children. It didn't work out with Earl and his family so she went to live with Fay and her husband. After a few years, Chris' father died and his mother came to live with them also. Chris and Fay bought 2 lots in North Hollywood and had a ranch style rambler built for them in 1938.

Chris, as Fay called him, never wanted her to work. He finally confessed that he did not like violin music and so she retired her violin. They did a little traveling but were mostly tied down with the care of the mothers. On the 28th of January, 1954 Roselle King died. She was buried in the Hollywood Hills section of Forest Lawn Cemetery. Mrs. Christopher followed her in death a few years later. Fay and Chris never were blessed with children, but had their hands full with the care of mothers.

In 1960, Chris retired from the Hollywood police force. Gradually his eyesight failed him and Fay finally had to put him in a nursing home. On Christmas eve, 1979 William Christopher died. When he was so sick, he told Fay she should sell the home and move into an apartment as the house would be too much for her to care for. He died before any action was taken. Fay was 77 years old and she wanted to stay where she had been so many years. A neighbor, Hazel McIntosh who was also a good friend, helped Fay with the business end. She was able to stay there until almost 95 years of age.

In 1983 Fay had a colostomy operation and lived with all that it entails. She stayed in the home she and Chris built and used the minimum amount of assistance to get by. One of her neighbors did her grocery shopping, and her friend, Hazel, helped with her business transactions and took her to her doctor and hairdresser appointments. In the last few years, osteoporosis had deformed Fay's spine but she still got around. She befriended a stray cat that showed up on her doorstep and she daily put out dry bread and seeds in her bird feeder for the birds. Fay King Christopher epitomizes one who has lived a good and productive life.

In August 1997 Fay was put in the hospital weighing only 70 pounds. The middle of September, 1997, she went into a nursing home in North Hollywood. She died on 10 October 1998, just three weeks after her 96th birthday.

Local Musician Leaves City for Western Coast

Miss Fay Lenora King, violin and piano instructor of Walsenburg, with her mother, Mrs. Rosel King, left Wednesday to make their home in California.

It was because of Mrs. King's health that Miss King found it necessary to move to a lower altitude.

In an interview Miss King expressed her deep regret at leaving Walsenburg. Seven years' residence here, working among a large group of young violin and piano students, created deeply rooted ties that were difficult to break.

Particularly was that true of her violin choir, which, after much effort over a period of years, was organized and which made its first public appearance in a recital at the Community House last May.

Miss King expressed her appreciation for the co-operation she received during the time she lived here and further explained that Miss Mary Kathryn Johnston would take over her violin class and would endeavor to continue with this attractive string ensemble.

Miss Agnes Finlay will continue with her beginning piano pupils.

Miss King's plans for the future are to build up a class in the suburban district of Los Angeles.

Janet King at about 3 years old on roller skates

Janet Katherine King

Sixth Generation

Janet Katherine King was born 13 August 1931 to Earl Wayne King and his second wife, Hazel Mary Hall Philhour King at St. Mary's Hospital in Pueblo, Colorado. Earl was 37 years old and Hazel was 33, making them older than the average first parents. Earl and Hazel had met at the roller skating rink out at Minnequa Lake in Pueblo. By the time Janet was 3 years old, Earl had her roller-skating. The family had moved from 829 Jackson Street rental into Earl's parents home after Earl's father died just before Janet was born and Roselle King couldn't manage the mortgage. When Janet was 17 months old her baby sister, Vera was born on 25 Jan 1933 at home Janet couldn't say "Grandma" and she called Roselle King "Gommer". Gommer liked the name and both Janet and Vera called her that for the rest of her life. The family lived in Grandmother King's house until about 1936 when the bank foreclosed on the mortgage, since Earl was not able to keep up the payments. The Earl King family then rented a house at 126 Tyler. Janet and Vera King were enrolled in the new Carlile Grade School. Their father and Aunt Fay had attended the old Carlile School that was lost in a fierce windstorm in 1930. At that time the school went through the eighth grade. The new one was built on the same location and went through the sixth grade.

Janet Katherine King

After living in this house a year or so the family moved to a rental house at 401 Polk where the girls could still attend Carlile School. About 1940 the family moved to a rental house at 301 Quincy. It was the farthest East they could live and still attend Carlile School. The McClellan Public Library was about 3-4 blocks from the home on Quincy. Janet and Vera spent a great deal of time there and enjoyed going up to the second floor where there was a small museum with an Egyptian mummy. The old library was torn down and replaced in the 1960's.

World War II broke out in December 1941 and the family continued to live at 301 Quincy about 5 years. Housing was so scarce that Hazel divided the six room house into two 3-room units and rented one out. In the summer of 1942 Hazel King went to work in an ordinance depot that had been built outside of the town of Pueblo. With the war raging, all the defense workers worked long hours and did very hard physical work. Hazel's job was feeding lumber into a power saw to make crates for bombs, which affected her already poor hearing. Janet and her sister sort-of grew up on their own. Janet had a friend a year older than her that had been working for 25 cents an hour at the St. Mary's Hospital doing cleaning and dusting. In the summer of 1942 help was hard to come by and Janet was able to get a job at St. Mary's hospital part time. Most of her labor was in the priest and nun's quarters attached to the hospital.

Earl was becoming an alcoholic, and there was a lot of tension in the home. In 1943 Hazel filed for divorce and the marriage was over. Hazel resumed a relationship with a man who had courted her during World War I. He lived in Bremerton, Washington where he was a machinist in the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard. Mr. Hoery promised to build Hazel the brick home she had always wanted in Bremerton as soon the war was over. They became engaged and Mr. Hoery went back to Bremerton. In 1945 Hazel bought her first house at 1604 Wabash. Janet was in Central High School and Vera was in Keating Junior High. Toward the end of the 9th grade Janet realized that she was going to move to Washington and all her friends signed her annual "goodbye". At the beginning of the summer of 1946 it was apparent the house in Bremerton would not be finished by September due to shortages of materials. Janet wanted her last 3 years of school to be in the same high school, so Janet was able to get her father to get her a railroad pass to Bremerton and her mother's fiancé found her a place to live as a mother's helper. Hazel didn't want her to go but Janet blackmailed her mother and in the fall of 1946, Janet moved to Washington State expecting her mother and sister to follow in a few months when Mr. Hoery completed building her a brick home in Washington. Janet settled in Port Orchard, Washington and was working for her room and board in a retired navy officer, Berwin Mahon and his wife, Lora's, home where she was a Mother's Helper caring for their grandson, Craig, and helping with housework as well as attending South Kitsap High School. Janet found the social position very interesting and challenging and the school life very rewarding.

In December 1946 Hazel decided not to marry her old sweetheart and instead married LeRoy Law, a fellow co-worker. She insisted that Janet come home. Janet was very hesitant, she wanted to remain and finish school in Port Orchard where she enjoyed the atmosphere. The Mahon's were very satisfied with Janet's fitting into their family and agreed to let her remain with them if she followed their household rules and finished school. A Superior Court judge who was a personal friend of Lora Mahon's agreed to allow Janet to remain. Janet and her mother became estranged and Janet was not to see her mother until February 1955. Janet made the National Honor Society and graduated seventh in a class of 164 students. Her father, Earl King, came for her graduation in June 1949. She was given a one year scholarship to Olympic College in Bremerton, Washington, majoring in engineering, one of a very few girls interested in engineering at that time.

In January 1950, while at Olympic College, Janet met an accounting major, Charles Thomas Robinson (called Tom) at a school dance after a basketball game. Janet loved to ballroom dance, something she inherited from her mother. Tom swept her off her feet and in March they announced their engagement. Janet quit college in May, 1950 due to economic conditions and went to work for the Seattle First National Bank in Seattle. During her week in Seattle she began to make her white full-length satin wedding gown with a train and the three attendant's dresses. Janet and Tom were planning a late August wedding when the Korean Conflict broke out. Tom had only been out of the army less than a year but he had unwittingly signed up for the inactive unorganized reserve and was one of the first of those called up to serve. Tom cancelled the wedding plans but when he reported for duty, he was stationed at Fort Lewis, an army camp about an hour's drive from Bremerton. After being able to see each other every weekend, Tom decided they might as well get married and collect the allotment. They were married on Nov. 4, 1950 in the Port Orchard Lutheran Church. They went on a 3-day honeymoon to Portland, Oregon. Janet continued to work in the bank in Seattle and she and Tom met at his parent's house in Bremerton on the weekends. On Dec. 14, 1950 Tom left on a troop ship for Korea. He was gone almost a year.

Janet quit the bank and went to work for the federal government in the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard in Bremerton where both of Tom's parents were currently working. Janet passed an exam and was sent to Olympic College by the navy shipyard as a draftsman trainee studying engineering. Tom returned in November from Korea and worked until the school quarter started in January 1952 when he resumed his college studies at Olympic College. Janet and Tom left Bremerton when Tom entered the University of Washington in the fall of 1952. Janet left the naval shipyard and went to work for the Applied Physics Laboratory at the University of Washington who had secret contracts with naval ordinance. Tom went to work for a CPA firm in the spring of 1954 and passed the CPA state exam in 1960. Janet quit working as a draftsman and engineering aide in the summer of 1958 when she was expecting their first child.

Janet and Tom bought a two-bedroom house in the suburbs of Seattle in April 1954. The commute was so time consuming, they sold the house in October 1957 and bought a four bedroom two story house with a daylight basement apartment in the Madrona District of Seattle overlooking Lake Washington and the Cascade Mountains. After a record hot summer, Janet gave birth on 30 September 1958 to daughter, Katherine Marie, whom they called Katie. Nineteen months later daughter Nanette Elizabeth was born 13 May 1960. In her first year of life, Nan had three asthma attacks that ended in pneumonia. She was highly allergic to the mold that is the musty smell in old houses. Tom and Janet sold the big house in the Madrona District to Tom's parents and moved into a newly constructed apartment on Mercer Island with electric heat. They stayed there six months. Janet was expecting their third child and life in an apartment complex with small children was not ideal. They bought a new three-bedroom 3600 sq. ft two level house with double garage, three fireplaces, and 2 baths in a very nice area of Seattle suburbs, Mercer Island. Tom was now a partner in the CPA firm he joined in 1954. Janet gave birth to a son, Steven Earl, on August 21, 1962.

As the children grew, so did Janet's interest in puppetry. A friend from church had small marionettes that performed "Three Billy Goats Gruff" and circus performing marionettes. After helping her friend, Gloria, Janet made her own marionettes and her father-in-law built her a portable stage. Janet teamed up with a birthday party clown and hired out, doing party puppet shows. She did the "Three Billy Goats Gruff", "Peter Rabbit", "Hansel and Gretel", "How Santa Chose the Reindeer", and for vacation Bible School she did "The Good Samaritan". Throughout the school years Janet performed all the shows in the classrooms of all three children. Janet made 18" marionettes with cloth bodies and paper mache heads for a larger stage and performed the "Prodigal Son" during a Lent evening program in March, 1967 for the local Episcopal church on Mercer Island. It was only performed that one time.

PUPPETS AT BAZAAR

A special attraction of the "Bizarre Bazaar" sponsored by the Women of Emmanuel, will be the "Pirates Den,' an enormormous circus tent with entertainment for children.

Directed by Marti Fox, known to many youngsters as "Punch" of TV's "Toadstool Ring," the 'Den' will feature three performances of Hansel and Gretel by Jan Robinson and her puppets.

Mrs. Robinson, a prominent TV personality, is a member of the Puppetters of America, and hand-fashions all her puppets.

Other attractions of the 'Den' include fortune tellers, candy trees, cake walks, strolling musicians, wishing wells, photography booths, hooks, records, and assorted games.

In addition to the 'Den', many other atractions have been planned for the Bazaar.

The "Treasure Hunt Bazaar" is scheduled from 10 am to 5 pm November 6. Lunch and snacks are available, and the show is open to all.

Tom had developed alcoholism and lost his partnership in the CPA firm and went to work for his best client who had a wholesale shoe business. The marriage was in trouble when Tom's oldest nephew and God-child who had just graduated from high school in June 1967 was killed in Oct 1967 in a motorcycle accident. This set off a binge of drinking for several days for Tom. Janet finally gave him a choice between her and the children or the bottle. Tom didn't like being told what to do and he chose the bottle. Tom moved out of the house Nov. 1, 1967.

Janet went to work at the Boeing Airplane Company in Seattle on Jan.2, 1968 as an engineering aide. On January 29 Janet had a brain aneurism but wasn't taken to the hospital until a week later. She thought she had the flu that was going around. The break was in an inoperable location in the brain so the neurosurgeon installed a shunt on Janet's carotid artery on the left side to slowly cut down the blood pressure past the break in the artery in the brain. After six weeks in the hospital she was allowed to go home. In a month she returned to part time work at Boeing for a month and then full time. Tom had lost his job with the client with the shoe business the day Janet entered the hospital. It was months before he worked again.

After a difficult recovery time Janet filed for divorce and was awarded the home with the big mortgage, all the furniture and one of the cars. Janet and the children quickly moved out of the large house and rented it out to a new Boeing engineer that had just been hired. Janet and the children moved into a small home that had been condemned for the future freeway across Mercer Island. After ten months they moved to a low-income apartment complex in Bellevue, WA. Since Janet couldn't afford childcare for the children, she flew them back to her mother in Pueblo, Colorado where they remained for the summer of 1969. The family lived in Bellevue for two years and then Janet bought a house in Kirkland. Steve played soccer and Little League baseball. When Katie went to junior high she got active in sports, which continued, through high school. Nan was active in academic and political endeavors in both junior and senior high school. In high school Nan was a cheerleader her last two years.

At Janet's job at Boeing she was sent to school at Boeing Computer Services. She returned to the University of Washington to work on her Bachelor's degree in mathematics mostly at night school. She went on in 1977 to become the Site Coordinator of a Flight Controls Research Computer Laboratory in the Boeing Commercial Airplane Company. Later she transferred to Boeing Military Airplane Company in August 1985 as the Systems Manager of the Flight Controls Research Computer Laboratory. She dropped her college work when she realized she couldn't graduate in June 1982 when both daughters graduated from their Universities.

Daughter, Katie graduated from Lake Washington High School, Kirkland, Washington in June 1977. She received a one-year scholarship to Seattle Pacific University. At the end of the year she decided she was not college material majoring in Fashion and Fabrics. Katie wished to use the remainder of her college savings Janet had set aside to go on a 9-week tour of Europe. When she returned she wanted to become a travel agent. Highline Community College offered a 3-quarter course, which Katie enrolled in. Janet had told her if she used the savings to go to Europe she would have to work her way for any further education. She went to work for a lady from her church who owned a travel agency in Bellevue. At the end of the course, the travel agency in Bellevue did not hire her. She decided to go back to college, taking Early Childhood Education in an off-campus program from Central Washington University held in south Seattle in Normandy Park. She worked all but summer quarter 1981 of the three years needed to get her degree. In 1994 she got her master's degree in Early Childhood Education.

Meanwhile, Katie's sister, Nan, graduated from Lake Washington High School in June 1978 and was accepted at Western Washington University in Bellingham, majoring in Public Policy and Administration which would be a natural to go on to law school should she decide. She lived in Bellingham during the school year and came home summers. Both girls graduated from their respective universities in June, 1982, Nan on the first Friday in Bellingham and Katie the next day in Ellensburg, Washington. Mom had quite a time commuting to both in two days.

The year Katie graduated from high school Steve was in the ninth grade. He got involved with some older boys with marijuana. He refused to go to his classes and on January 18, 1977 Janet put him in the Griffin Home for Boys in Kennydale that had two large buildings that housed 11 boys each. The home was for disturbed young men ages 12 to 18. From the end of January until June 1977 Steve completed all the work necessary to complete the ninth grade and qualify for tenth grade. Steve was ready to come home the end of October. The treatment he received at the Griffin Home helped him grow up to be a responsible and honest young man, though he was still involved with marijuana. All of his classmates at Lake Washington High called him a jailbird and the youth at the Presbyterian Church where the family attended wouldn't include Steve in their activities. He gravitated to other boys that the popular youth also rejected. In the fall of 1978 he went to school for a month and decided to quit school. Janet protested, so he went and passed the GED test the first time he took it without any preparation. The school refused to give him his diploma until he was 18 years old, which was 2 years away. He enrolled in the Lake Washington Technical School taking auto body shop. He got bored when most of the learning was completed and all they had to do for eight hours was practise on damaged cars people would bring in to get repaired. Very soon he dropped out of school again. In the spring of 1979 the family moved to a rental house in Bellevue owned by Uncle Jack Robinson. Janet sold the house in Kirkland eventually. In December 1979 Steve joined the navy with his mother's signature. He spent Christmas in boot camp in San Diego. He started to wonder what he had done.

In June 1980 Janet and the girls moved into a brand new tri-level house she bought in southeast Renton. In September 1980, Janet, Nan and Nan's boyfriend, Tuck Ginot, drove straight through to Lemoore, California to visit Steve before the aircraft carrier he was assigned to left San Diego. They drove to San Diego after a few days at the Naval Air Station in Lemoore and stayed in the housing available for visiting families on the ocean beach in Coronado, California. Steve was assigned to the aircraft carrier, Ranger, and it was being assigned to the Persian Gulf during the Iranian crisis when they held the U. S. Embassy employees hostage.

In 1980 Janet bought a membership in Thousand Trails Campground Resorts. Both Katie and Nan did not approve and refused to go camping there with their mother even though the family had done quite a lot of tent camping in state parks located on Puget Sound and on lakes in the past. The girls felt it was not rustic enough and too commercial.

On Steve's 20th birthday he was stationed in the Philippines. He acquired a baggie of marijuana and was searched as he left the base. He was arrested and was in the brig until the end of November, 1982. He was given an undesirable discharge and kicked out of the navy. With his mother and two sisters hounding him, he enrolled in Green River Community College. He didn't like school discipline that was required so he dropped out after 2 ½ quarters. He went to work as a delivery truck driver. Janet was taking ski lessons in January 1983 and she had 2 practice sessions coming so she took Steve with her and introduced him to skiing. He took to it like a duck to water. All of his spare cash he used to go skiing, not marijuana. In the winter of 1985 Janet bought a 1965 Volkswagen bus camper and Steve would take it up to Crystal Mountain Ski area after work on Friday nights and ski all day Saturday and Sunday. In April 1985, Steve went to Mt. Batchelor in Oregon to ski for the last time. In May, he bought a Suzuki motorcycle. On July 9, 1985 on his way home from work on his motorcycle, an oncoming car turned left in front of him so he hit the rear of the car, crossed over the medium strip and went head long into a truck, killing him outright.

Janet had him cremated and she and the girls took his ashes up on the top of Crystal Mountain and sprinkled them on the hillside overlooking Mt. Rainier. Steve was six weeks shy of his 23rd birthday when he died. He was just finding himself and had given up marijuana for the high he said he got from skiing down the mountains. His employers were devastated, they said he was an excellent employee and they could always count on him to do a good job. His memorial service was at the Bellevue Presbyterian Church on July 13, 1985.

Janet had become a member of the Presbyterian Church when she had the children. When at the Mercer Island Church, she taught Sunday School for several years and finally became the Sunday School Superintendent in 1966. When she went to work in 1968, she had to resign the Superintendent job but continued to teach Sunday School until her children were grown. When her son Steve was killed, she was a member of the Bellevue church but there was no emotional support from that church. An engineer at work and his wife, who were Seventh Day Adventists, came to Janet's house and comforted her in her grief. After a year of Bible study, Janet became a Seventh Day Adventist in 1987.

Katie got a teaching job in Prescott, Washington as a kindergarten teacher in the fall of 1983. She went on to a Kindergarten teaching position in the Bethel School District in Tacoma, Wash. She met Darrell Fralick who was teaching sixth grade. They were married August 23, two days after Steve's 1985 birthday if he had lived. On March 10, 1986 Katie gave birth to her first child, a son. They named him Robinson after her brother. She went to work in the Tacoma School District, had a baby daughter on July 25, 1988 and eventually got a teaching job in Puyallup where she lived. Her father died of a cerebral hemorrhage in February 1988 and never got to see either one of his grandchildren. He lived in Anchorage, Alaska.

Nan went to work as a cocktail waitress when she graduated from college. She finally got a job as a file clerk at a Reinsurance Brokerage in November 1982. Within months she was promoted and her career was launched. In July 1988 she was transferred to the Philadelphia Branch and was promoted in 1999 to a Vice-President in the Philadelphia Office. She took up sailboat racing in her off hours and loved it. She bought a row house in Philadelphia in 1992 and got a calico cat named Pat.

Janet left her job in the commercial airplane division of Boeing in late July 1985 and became the Systems Manager of a computer laboratory in the Military Airplane Division of Boeing, a job she held until she retired in April 1992. In the summer of 1986 Janet took the Volkswagen on her first camping trip at the LaConner Thousand Trails Campground. They were going to have a Singles Week-end in August so Janet signed up. She went and ended up as one of the workers to establish a Singles Group among the membership. She ended up as the treasurer, monthly newsletter editor and maintained the scrapbooks of pictures of the monthly rallies. Her friend, Barbara DuBois invited Janet to share her new 28 foot Tioga Arrow and Barbara became the head of the singles group. In August of 1988 Janet moved from her tri-level home in Renton to a one-level ranch style home near the Sea-Tac airport and near the office building Boeing was renting across from the airport, at which Janet worked.

In November 1989, Buzz Bower began attending the Thousand Trails Singles group. His wife had died in February 1987 and loneliness had set in. His 4 children lived in other areas and he didn't see them very often. The T.T. Singles group didn't meet in December, January and February. At the March 1990 rally Buzz asked Janet for a date for dinner and to see "Camelot" in the Federal Way theatrical production. They had a very nice evening but Buzz didn't call again. He attended the April rally and volunteered to put the member mailing list on his computer to make labels. Janet had the list at home and invited him over for dinner to get it. He was leaving town for a trip in his trailer, but went for dinner. That started the courtship that ended in an October 14, 1990 wedding.

Buzz and Janet went on a Caribbean cruise honeymoon. Buzz had retired from Boeing in June 1989 but Janet was still working. Buzz liked to cook so he offered to become Janet's househusband while she was still working.

Janet received the week between Christmas and New Years as a paid holiday with Boeing, so they traveled with the Boeing Employees Travel Club to Bangkok and spent New Years Eve in Singapore in 1990. In March 1991 they traveled to Innsbruck, Austria for three weeks with the Boeing Ski Club. Since the lower slopes had melted unseasonably early, Janet and Buzz spent their time sight seeing, traveling to Munich, Salisburg, Venice, Vienna and Oberammergau, to name some. With their appetite wetted for travel it didn't take Buzz too much to convince Janet to retire early after 23 years with the Boeing Company. She retired the end of April, 1992. They sold the house in Sea-Tac, bought a house in Puyallup, where Janet's daughter Katie lived, to have Katie look out for their interests and left on a trip around the USA visiting the Grand Canyon, son Roger and his wife in Texas, Jan's daughter in Philadelphia and Buzz's brother Jim and his family in Webster, New York. On the way home they stopped at Buzz's former daughter-in-law's in Montana to visit with grandchildren. On the way home Buzz got drowsy so Janet took over the driving west of Missoula. She fell asleep at the wheel and totaled the truck and fifth wheel.. Janet was not hurt when the truck rolled over but Buzz had to have gravel removed from his right arm.

With the insurance money Buzz bought a 31 foot Dolphin motor home. In 1993, Buzz and Janet traveled to the Canadian Rockies, took a cruise on the inland passage to Alaska and went with the Boeing Employees Club to the British Isles. In 1994 they took their annual 'Snowbird' trip beginning it with a three week trip to Cabo San Lucas in Mexico to help build two Seventh Day Adventists Churches. When they returned, they flew to Korea to take a tour with Buzz's son Roger that was stationed there. On the Fourth of July they left Seattle to drive the new 33 foot Sea Breeze RV over Alcan highway to Alaska. They were home a month when they flew to Philadelphia where Janet's daughter, Nan drove them to Webster, New York and they visited the Niagara Falls. Nan returned to Philadelphia and Janet and Buzz rented a car and drove through the New England states 'leaf peeping'. They drove back to Philadelphia, and flew home. When Janet got home from the current trip, she began to look into her family genealogy. She signed up for a Beginning Genealogy Class at a local senior center. For the next six years, a part of the time spent on the "Snowbird Trips' was spent visiting locations her ancestors had lived and collecting source data for publishing her family histories. On March 3rd, 1995 Buzz and Janet flew to Orlando, Florida to meet with Buzz's brother, Jim and his wife Angie for a two week vacation.. When they returned, they packed the RV and drove to the Verde Valley Thousand Trails Resort in Arizona. They stored the RV there and drove the car to Phoenix where they went on an Institute of Creation Research tour of Grand Canyon and the special geological places in Arizona and Utah. Returning to the Verde Valley Resort, they went to Colorado to do genealogical research, on to Missouri, Texas, Carlsbad Caverns and Yosemite National Park. In the fall they went to Australia and New Zealand with the Boeing Employees Travel club.

In 1996 Buzz and Janet waited until March to go south. Janet had her left knee replaced with an artificial one on February 2. Buzz's brother was having his 50th wedding anniversary celebration in April in Palm Springs, California. After the 50th anniversary celebration Buzz and Janet went for a tour of national parks in Utah, went to Hershey, Pennsylvania Thousand Trails Preserve where Janet's daughter Nan visited them on the week-ends. From there they went back west to Ohio, Iowa and Nebraska for genealogical research before heading north to Canada where they went through the Glacier National Park on there way home. In September they went for three weeks to China with the Boeing Employees Travel Club.

The 'Snowbird Trips' for the next three winters were spent doing a great deal of genealogy research at both Mesa, Arizona and Salt Lake City, Utah at the LDS Family History Libraries. November 23, 1999 Janet had an artificial knee put in her right leg. On December 29, 1999 Janet delivered the computer CD that held the information for the HALL family history in the book "Twigs from the HALL Family Tree" to the printers. It was finally printed in April 2000.

In November 2000 they bought a new Saturn car to tow behind the RV and began traveling, as soon as Janet's health permitted, to start on completing her father's family genealogy, "Twigs from the KING Family Tree" (this book). The draft of this book went to the printers in March 2001.

Sixth Generation

Vera Lou King was born on a cold 25 January 1933 at their residence at 418 W. Abriendo, Pueblo, Colorado to Hazel and Earl King. Her paternal grandmother, Roselle Sherman King, owned the home but Roselle had moved to Walsenburg, Colorado where her daughter, Fay, was teaching violin and piano. Vera had a sister, Janet, seventeen months older, who was born in the local hospital, but the economic depression had set in for the entire country and it was more cost effective to have babies at home. Dr. Charles Streamer had delivered both sisters. Both Grandmother King and Aunt Fay wanted the new baby to be named Betty Lou after Earl's Aunt Bettie, his father's sister, but Hazel wanted the new baby named after her childhood school chum.

The family lived in Grandmother King's house until about 1936 when the bank foreclosed on the mortgage. Earl was not able to keep up the payments. The Earl King family then rented a house at 126 Tyler. Janet and Vera King were enrolled in the new Carlile Grade School. Their father and Aunt Fay had attended the old Carlile School that was lost in a fierce windstorm in 1930. At that time the school went through the eighth grade. The new one was built on the same location and went through the sixth grade. After living in this house a year or so the family moved to a rental house at 401 Polk where the girls could still attend Carlile School. About 1940 the family moved to a rental house at 301 Quincy. The house at 301 Quincy had 2 or 3 large cottonwood trees in the front parking strip. When a fierce wind blew, the green seed pods that had fluff attached to the seed that appeared to be cotton would be blown down. Janet and Vera used them to stir in their mud pies. This set the scene for Vera to relate the pods to beans and peas and she has refused to eat anything that resembles cotton inside. World War II broke out in December 1941 and the family continued to live there about 5 years. Housing was so scarce that Hazel divided the six room house into two 3-room units and rented one out. The landlord must have never found out.

Vera was extremely shy and not the least bit assertive. Her mother made her wear brown or tan long cotton stockings that were held up by garters in the winter since the children had a long way to walk to school. Frequently they were over-sized and some of Vera's classmates teased her and made her feel lonely and unhappy. Both of the parents were in their mid and late 30's when the girls were born and this made the girls feel like out-siders to the classmates at school. Earl was becoming an alcoholic, and there was a lot of tension in the home.

In the summer of 1942 Hazel King went to work in an ordinance depot that had been built outside of the town of Pueblo. With the war raging, all the defense workers worked long hours and did very hard physical work. Hazel's job was feeding lumber into a power saw to make crates for bombs, which affected her already poor hearing. Vera and her sister sort-of grew up on their own. In 1943 Hazel filed for divorce and the marriage was over. In 1945 Hazel bought her first house at 1604 Wabash. Janet was in Central High School and Vera was in Keating Junior High. In the fall of 1946, sister Janet moved to Washington State expecting her mother and sister to follow in a few months. Hazel was to marry a childhood sweetheart when he completed building her a brick home in Washington. Hazel decided to marry Roy Law, a fellow co-worker instead. Janet was working for her room and board in a retired navy officer and his wife's home where she was a Mother's Helper caring for their grandson and she wanted to remain there. This left Vera all alone. Vera and her new step-dad bonded and she felt he was the only caring adult she had ever known. When Roy became a Christian, he insisted Vera find a church and go to it. Vera settled on the Calvary Baptist Church where she was baptized on January 31, 1949. She also met her future husband at the Calvary Baptist Church.

Vera developed quite an artistic talent and was very good at cartooning. She found a school in Chicago that taught the kind of art she was interested in. Her mother and step-father would not pay for her to attend school there and she was too shy to try to work her way through school in a strange city, so she gave up that pursuit She graduated from Central High School in June 1951 having taken a business course. She went to work for the telephone company and in August she took a Civil Service Exam and passed, going to work for the Pueblo Army Depot where she worked as a stock file inventory clerk until April 1958.

On Washington's birthday, February 22, 1955 Vera was rushed by the local police to St. Mary's Hospital to the bedside of her fatally injured (in a railroad accident) father who died the next day. She had not seen him for several years although living in the same town. She had to contact her Aunt Fay in North Hollywood, California and her sister who was married by now in Washington state and she had to make all the arrangements for his funeral. It was quite a learning experience for a young woman.

Vera gave birth to their first child, Phillip Gregory, on March 10, 1957 which happened to be his Grandma Law's birthday. Vera put the baby in day care and continued to work. The winter of 1958 Vera was expecting her second child and quit her job in April. Daughter, Jodene Kaye was born 9 May 1958 in Monte Vista, Colorado. Phillip graduated in June 1958 from Colorado State University with a Bachelor of Science in Animal Science.

RECEPTION
AFTER THE CEREMONY
CHURCH PARLORS

Vera King Is Bride Of Elmer White

The Calvary Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty candle light wedding June 25, when Miss Vera King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Law, 1126 Palmer, became the bride of Elmer Phillip White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer White of Rye Star Route.

The Rev. Arthur Greer officiated at the double-ring ceremony with the bride's stepfather giving her in marriage.

The altar was decorated with candelabra and a basket of gladioli. Michael Doonan sang "The Lord's Prayer" and Mrs. Mary Ruth Christian sang "O Promise Me." The soloists were accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Hazel Morgan.

The candles were lit by Gerald Robbe and Richard Williams.

The bride wore a ballarina length gown of nylon and lace. Her fingertip veil was of nylon net and lace, and she wore a strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a 100-year-old Bible with a white orchid on top.

Mrs. Beverly Torbit, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and wore a ballarina length gown of orchid nylon net and carried a matching fan bouquet of carnations and roses.

Mrs. Jackie Thompson and Miss Sandra White were bridesmaids and wore ballarina gowns of blue and yellow nylon net and carried matching fan bouquets of carnations and roses.

Gerald Torbit was best man. Ushers were Gerald Robbe, Richard Williams, and Ray Shaffer, the bridegroom's classmates at college, and Jerry Bushner, a cousin.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and a white corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a grey dress with white accessories and a white corsage.

Mrs. Ted White was in charge of the guest book at a reception held immediately following the service in the church parlors. The bride's table was centered by a four-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Harold Skrifvars and Mrs. Warren Skrifvars cut the the cake and Mrs. Edward Ranus served the punch.

Both the bride and the bridegroom were graduated from Central High School. The bride is employed as a clerk at the Pueblo Ordnance Depot. The bridegroom works at the Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp. during the summer months and attends college at Colorado A&M, where he is studying veterinary medicine.

After a brief honeymoon in Colorado they will reside on Rye Star Route.

After a period of working for the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company as a chemist, Phillip went to work for a meat packing plant as a sheep buyer. On January 29, 1960 another daughter, Kris Leanne was born. Over two years later, on 16 May 1962 Douglas Peter was born. While Vera was pregnant with another child, she fell and broke her ankle. A pin was placed in the bone. Less than a year later, daughter Lori Rene' was born.

Vera was active in teaching Sunday School and in the Woman's Society of her church. Her three daughters were given piano lessons and as teenagers played the piano and organ in the church services. The boys were active with their father in helping to care for their Grandpa White's ranch. Douglas had a rooster raising project that he kept in the family garage. When all the children were in school (about 1970), Vera went to work at the Park View Hospital in Pueblo, Colorado as an Insurance Records Processor.

Vera's mother collected dolls. Vera decided to make her mother one of porcelain china. She became very proficient and made them for all the immediate family. It became a lifelong hobby. Daughter Jodene married Edwin Edmonds in August 1978. In 1979 Vera and Phillip sold their existing home and purchased a larger one with three bedrooms and a double garage. Vera's mother, Hazel Law, passed away in April 1980 at age of 82.

Phillip advanced in positions at the meat packing plant and became a manager. In 1980 the grocery chain in California that owned the plant decided to get rid of the plant and Phillip helped close down the facility. He was offered a job in California but he didn't want to leave Colorado. By the end of the closing he got a job in Wichita, Kansas. Vera had lived the first 49 years of her life in Pueblo, Colorado and it took quite an adjustment to the windy extreme weather conditions of Wichita. Vera got a job at the Wesley Medical Center in Wichita as a Hospital Patient Counselor and worked there for 14 years. While in Wichita, Vera's health began to deteriorate. She had to have her bladder removed, her back had surgery, her feet gave her problems and finally her knees acted up.

Phillip retired from his job in 1996 and they moved back to Colorado and settled in Greeley, where they can be near their 5 children, 13 grandchildren and 6 step-grandchildren. In February 2000 Vera had her right knee replaced with an artificial one.

Family History of Thomas Gordon and some of his descendants

Alexander Stewart b. 1678 in Ireland Married Sarah McLaughlin on 25 Jun 1699 in Londonderry, Ireland. Their only known child is John Stewart b. 20 Nov 1699 in Londonderry, Ireland. His wife is not known but he is the father of Jane Stewart b. 20 Mar 1722 in Westmeath, Killugan, Ireland. (Ref.1)

James Gordon is thought to be the father of Alexander Gordon b. 22 Apr 1709 in Armagh, Armagh, Ireland of the Huntley Branch of the Gordon Clan in Scotland. James Gordon may have been the father of John H. Gordon b. 30 Jun 1717. All of this is undocumented.

Alexander Gordon married Jane Stewart about 1738 in Ireland. Thomas Gordon was born in County Down, Ulster, Ireland ca 1740. Jane and her son, at age 5, came to Albemarle County, VA, about 1745 near where Gordonsville is today. Thomas's father Alexander joined them later but did not remain and went back to Ireland. No record has ever been found that he returned to the U.S. Thomas Gordon grew up and married Sarah Flynn in 1770 in Orange County, VA. Son, John was born about 1772, a daughter, Elizabeth was born 1775. Thomas enlisted as a private serving in Colonel Grayson's 16th Virginia Regiment for 2-1/2 years in the Revolutionary War, serving from May 11, 1777 until November 1779. Son Thomas, Jr and twin William were born 16 Nov 1779. Thomas and his family moved to Surry County, NC and settled on a fertile farm on the West side of Stewart's Creek, a few miles from Mt. Airy, where son, Samuel was born 4 June 1785, daughter Mary was born in 1790 and last child, David was born 19 May 1794. (Ref. 2)

Stokes County was formed from Surry County in December 1789. Three months later, on March 2, 1790 the first jury was selected for newly created Stokes County and Thomas Gordon was the first person selected for jury duty in Stokes County. The first term of court was devoted to organization of county government and other minor business but no trials were held.

Late one afternoon in April 1803 Thomas and Sarah had gone to the "big house". As was the custom in those days the kitchen and dining room were separate from the other part of the house, sometimes called the "big house". All the children still living at home stayed in the kitchen. Father Thomas was resting on a "tunnel bed" that had been pulled from a larger bed, and mother, Sarah, was "spooling" a piece of cloth, as was necessary in those days when the women spun and wove about all the cloth used to clothe the family, when a bolt of lightning struck the "big house", tearing a hole through the roof and instantly killing both. After the storm, the children found both their parents dead. Their mother still had the thread in her fingers and was holding scissors around the handles of which she had been allowing thread to pass to save her fingers from its friction. They were buried in separate coffins in the same grave on their farm. (Ref. 2) The Gordon farm later became the property of Eng and Chang Bunker, the world famous and wealthy Siamese twins. (Ref. 2)

The Will of Thomas Gordon was executed by the eldest son, John, in May 1803. This is recorded in the Surry County clerk's Office in Dobson, NC. John Gordon had married Barzillah Martin about 1789 and lived on the road between Pinnacle and Pilot Mountain where John and his brother William operated taverns to accommodate travelers in the old-time stagecoaches. John and Barzillah began their life together with very little means, but by the application of industry, due economy, and intelligence, gained property rapidly until they became quite wealthy for those days. They accumulated much real estate , and at John's death he owned 12 slaves. (Ref. 3)

Barzillah was the daughter of John Martin and Sarah Simpson and born 7 Apr 1774 in VA. John and Barzillah Gordon had three sons and nine daughters. Sarah was the oldest born 20 Nov. 1789 and died 7 Dec 1872 when she was 83 years old. She married Thomas Guymon 23 Feb 1809 and migrated to Utah with the Mormon movement. Second child, Virginia was born in 1792 and married Mordecai Phillips on 30 Mar 1822. They migrated to Cass County, Missouri where Virginia died at the age of 82 on 1 Dec 1874. The third child Mary (Polly) was born in 1795 and married William Stone on 22 July 1818. They spent their lives near Pilot Mountain in Surry County, NC.

Daughter Elizabeth was the fourth child born on 28 Mar 1797 who married the brother of her sister Mary's husband, Enoch Stone, Jr. They spent their entire lives in Surry County, NC with Elizabeth dying on 26 Mar 1877, just 2 days shy of her 80th birthday. Fifth child was daughter Rhoda (Rhonda) born 1798 who married Levi Fisher on 4 Sep 1837. They lived in Winston-Salem, NC.

Sixth daughter named after her mother, Barzillah was born on 18 Feb 1799. She married James King on 13 Aug 1819. In 1838 they migrated to Greene County, Indiana where Barzillah died at the age of 72 on 17 Mar 1871. Sister Stacy was number seven daughter born in 1803. She married John H. Ferris on 22 Nov 1834 and she died six years later. The eighth daughter was Frances "Frankie" who was born in 1804 and died in 1843 without having married. She was an invalid the last seven years of her life. A ninth daughter died as an infant and no record was left. (Ref. 3)

The last three children were their sons, first James born on 27 Mar 1807. James married Susannah Jackson on 16 Sep 1824 when he was only 17 years old. He remained in the Stokes County area of North Carolina his entire life, dying on 7 Nov 1868. (Ref. 4) The next son was John Gordon born in 1809. He married Rebecca Roark on 15 Feb 1830. They moved to Indiana where they lived out their lives. The youngest child, son Martin was born on 22 Mar 1812. He married Mary (Polly) Wilkerson Briggs on 28 Aug 1834. They lived on a farm John Gordon, his father, had purchased from his sister Barzillah's father-in-law, John King. Martin died on 3 Feb 1871 in Stokes County, NC. (Ref. 5 & 6)

Barzillah died 18 Oct 1830 and John Gordon married wife #2 Mary Tuttle on 23 Dec 1834 in Stokes Co., NC. Both John and Barzillah are buried on the Gordon family farm near Pinnacle, NC. Part of the original farm is still owned by members of the Gordon family. (Ref. 7)

Sherwood McCraw

Sherwood McCraw was the fourth son born to Benjamin Albin McCraw and his wife Ursuley on 5 Dec 1791 in Surry County, North Carolina. (Ref. 1) Around 1812 he married Nancy Wheat born in ca 1790 in New Madrid Co, MO. After the earthquake in 1811/12 her family went back east to Jefferson County, KY and possibly Surry County, NC where Sherwood and Nancy met. (Ref. 18) Sherwood's first appearance on the Surry County Tax List was in 1813 where he was listed with one poll and no land and no slaves. (Ref. 2)

Sherwood McCraw volunteered for six months duty in the "Volunteer Company of Artillery" on 3 Feb 1814 in Surry County, North Carolina. The company was commanded by Captain George L. Davidson in the Regiment of Volunteers and drafted militia from North Carolina commanded by Colonel Jesse A. Person in the War with Great Britain declared by the United States, commonly known as the War of 1812. He was discharged 10 Aug 1814 in Salisburg, North Carolina.(Ref. 3)

Nancy and Sherwood McCraw's first child, son Andrew J., was born 20 April 1813 in Surry County, North Carolina; the second child, daughter Mahala was born 23 June 1815. On the 1816 Surry County Tax List states that Sherwood McCraw was the owner of 100 acres on Fishes Creek. (Ref. 5) Son William McCraw was born 5 June 1818 and son George W. McCraw was born on 23 March 1820. Daughters Elizabeth and Sarah followed on 22 March 1823 and 11 March 1825. Another son was born 26 January 1826 and was named Pleasant G. McCraw. Mary Fleming McCraw was born 11 February 1831 and was the eighth child. Their final child, daughter Margaret was born 21 September 1834. All children were born in Surry County, North Carolina. (Ref. 4)

Sherwood divested all land holdings by 1921 and remained on the Surry County Tax lists with one white poll tax 1821 through 1830. (Ref. 2) When the Sherwood McCraw family moved to Greene County, Indiana is not known.

Sherwood's oldest son, Andrew J. McCraw was married 9 September 1837 in Surry County, North Carolina to Elizabeth Brassfield. (Ref. 6) In the 1840 census, both Sherwood and Andrew were listed as head of household in Greene County, Indiana. (Ref. 12) Daughter, Elizabeth McCraw married Armistead Stone in Owen County, Indiana on 12 Nov 1840. (Ref. 7) Sherwood's son William married Lucinda McNeal in Spencer, Indiana on 8 Dec 1842. William had purchased land in 1840 in Owen County, Indiana, leading to the conclusion that perhaps the entire McCraw family group except son Andrew moved to Owen County after the U.S. census was taken in 1840. George had left the family and went to Franklin County, Missouri where he married Mary Ann Gross (McCallister) on 25 Oct 1843.

On 22 January 1846 daughter Sarah married Alvis M. King who left his father's farm in Greene County to court Sarah in Owen County. (Ref. 7) Sarah was expecting her first child when Sherwood McCraw died on 27 January 1847. (Ref. 8) He was buried in the Spencer cemetery in Owen County, A year later on 17 Feb 1848 his son William McCraw died. William's wife had passed away less than a year after they were married. Both are buried in the Riverside cemetery in Spencer. (Ref. 9) Two and a half years after Sherwood McCraw's death his son Pleasant and daughter Mary Fleming got married on 14 May1849 by the same minister, leaving us to wonder if it was a double wedding ceremony.

Elizabeth McCraw Stone and family had already moved to Franklin County, Missouri by 1848 where George McCraw also resided. Alvis and Sarah King, Pleasant and Mary McCraw, and William and Mary Fleming Walsh were in the U.S. census for Franklin County, Missouri for 1850 Nancy Wheat McCraw and her youngest daughter have not been located in the 1850 census. Two years later, on 12 Aug 1852 Nancy McCraw died and was buried in Franklin County, Missouri. (Rev. 14) On 7 March 1854 Alvis King was appointed guardian for Margaret McCraw, the youngest daughter of Sherwood to procure a land warrant for Margaret entitled to her as the minor heir for her father's service in the War of 1812. A marriage license was taken out by Margaret McCraw and William H. Garner on 24 Jan 1855 in Franklin County, Missouri. The outcome of the land procurement is not known. (Ref. 10)

Sarah McCraw King

Sarah McCraw was born on 11 March 1825 and was the 6th child of Sherwood and Nancy Wheat McCraw. She was born in Surry County, North Carolina. (Ref. 1) When Sarah was about 13 years old the family packed up their wagons and migrated northwest to Greene County, Indiana in 1838. They settled in Center Township where the family of James King from Stokes County (adjacent to Surry) settled around the same time. (Ref. 12) It is not known if they all came west in the same caravan from North Carolina. The King's had a son, Alvis M., that was 2 years younger than Sarah.

Sarah's brother, William McCraw, who was eight years older than she, bought land in Owen County (adjacent to the north of Greene) in 1840. Their eldest daughter, Elizabeth was married in November of 1840 in Owen County, Indiana (Ref. 7) so it is quite possible the entire family moved there after they were enumerated for the 1840 U.S. census. When Sherwood and Nancy McCraw moved from Greene County to Spencer, Owen County, Indiana has not been documented. Brother George had moved to Franklin County, Missouri and was married there in October of 1843. Sarah McCraw married Alvis M. King on 22 January 1846 performed by John Mills, Justice of the Peace in Owen County. (Ref. 7) Sarah was expecting her first child when her father died in Spencer, Indiana on 27 January 1847. (Ref. 8). Two weeks later her first son, William King, was born. (Ref. 11) Sarah's brother, William McCraw, died on 17 February 1848. On 2 June 1848 Alvis purchased 39 of the 79 acres William had purchased in 1840. (Ref. 13) It may have been part of the probate settlement of William's estate.

On 11 December 1848 Sarah and Alvis' second son, James King, was born. (Ref. 11) In May of 1849 both Sarah's brother Pleasant McCraw and sister Mary Fleming McCraw were married on the same day and by the same minister so it could have been a double wedding. (Ref. 7) By the 1850 U.S. census Sarah and Alvis had moved to Boueff Township, Franklin County, Missouri. Sarah's brothers, George W. and Pleasant McCraw, and her sisters, Elizabeth McCraw Stone and Mary Fleming McCraw Walsh, were also living in Franklin County, Missouri. (Ref. 14) In 1851 son, John Wesley King, was born to Sarah and Alvis. (Ref. 7) He was not in the 1860 census so must have died before then. Who Sarah's mother was living with in 1850 is not known, but Nancy Wheat McCraw, died in Franklin County, Missouri on 12 August 1852. Her grave has not been found, but her son-in-law, Armistead Stone (Elizabeth's husband), and John W. Miller testified they assisted in burying Nancy McCraw and were present at her burial in testimony they gave to help Sherwood's youngest daughter, Margaret, in receiving pension land for Sherwood's service in the War of 1812 . Sarah's fourth son, George W. King, was born in Nov of 1853. On 7 March 1854, Alvis M. King was appointed guardian of Sarah's youngest sister, Margaret McCraw, being the minor heir of Sherod (Sherwood) McCraw, deceased. Alvis was appointed for the purpose of procuring a land warrant for Margaret McCraw, entitled to her because of her father's service in the War of 1812. (Ref. 10) Daughter, Elizabeth (Bettie) King, was born to Sarah in 1858 and in February 1860, son, Augustin King, was born. (Ref. 11)

By the 1860 U.S. census, the family was living in New Haven, Franklin County, Missouri. (Ref. 16) The railroad tracks were being built along the Missouri River and Alvis went to work for the railroad. In August of 1860 Alvis King bought 40 acres of land in Jefferson Township, Osage County, Missouri (Ref. 17) and it is assumed the family moved there shortly thereafter. Son, Walter Newton King, entered the world on 17 April 1863, during the Civil War. Two and one half years later Sarah gave birth to her 7th son, Norval King, in October 1865. Family tradition says she died of complications of this childbirth, leaving Alvis with 6 boys and a 7 year old daughter, Bettie. The oldest son, William, was 18-1/2 years old and may have left home by then.

Sarah was about 41 years old when she died. She and Alvis had been married for almost 20 years. When she was born there were no trains and when the families traveled from North Carolina to Indiana it was either by wagon train or on barges down the big rivers. Things were quite different. She had 8 children, one son having died. She must have really had courage and pioneering spirit to move as many times as they did. I am sure she was greatly missed.

The Sherman Clan

The Sherman (originally Shearman, Sheerman) Clan has been traced as far back to 1396 in England. The author of this presentation only wanted to document those who came to the United States and since. There are a number of books that go back to the 14th century since the Sherman Clan was obviously proud of their heritage and kept good records. Any one interested can find one of these books at any large public library or genealogical library. (Ref. 1)

Phillip Sherman was the first of this particular line of Sherman's to come to America. Phillip was baptized 5 Feb 1610 in Dedham, Essex County, England as the child of Samuel and Phillippa Ward Sherman. He came to America when he was about 20 years old. He married in 1633 in Roxbury, Massachusetts to Sarah Odding. He was the first Secretary of the Colony of Rhode Island. Phillip and Sarah had 13 children, the fifth of which this line comes through. Phillip Sherman died in March 1687.

Edmund Sherman was the 5th child and the 3rd son, born in April 1641 in Portsmouth, Rhode Island. Edmund married Dorcas Hicks when and where is not known. According to the records of Dartsmouth, Massachusetts, where his eight children were born, Edmund was a farmer. Edmund died in 1719 in Dartsmouth, Massachusetts. His second son became the next in this line of Shermans.

David Sherman was born either 7 May 1674 or 1 Jan 1680 in Dartsmouth, Massachusetts. David married Abigail Hathaway on 27 Dec 1710 in Taunton, Massachusetts and he farmed in Dartsmouth, Massachusetts until he died there in 1755. He and Abigail had 10 children. His first born son continued the currently followed Sherman line.

Jacob, first born of David Sherman was born 8 Nov 1713 in Dartsmouth, Massachusetts. On 3 March 1738 he married Margaret Faunce. Jacob was a farmer and belonged to the Society of Friends where he was a speaker in meetings. He died in November 1778 in Middleboro, Massachusetts. His first born of 10 children continued this line of Shermans.

David Sherman was born in Middleboro, Massachusetts in 1739. For this Sherman family history we have called David Sherman Generation One. David married first in 1761 to Abigail Tabor and second on 1 Dec 1763 to Lydia Staples in Middleboro, Massachusetts. David was a soldier of the Revolution serving as a private. Lydia was the mother of their six children. David died in 1829 in Middleboro. His second son was the carrier of the Sherman line we're interested in.

Andrew Sherman was born in 1772 in Richmond, Cheshire County, New Hampshire. He married Milly Cutting on 8 Nov 1798 in Marlborough, Cheshire County, New Hampshire. Andrew was a farmer in the communities of Keene, Swanzey and Troy, all in the county of Cheshire, New Hampshire. Andrew and Milly had 10 children. The 5th child and 4th son, Virgil Sherman continued the line we are interested in. Andrew Sherman went to live with 2nd son, Harrison W. Sherman after Milly died before 1850. (Ref. 2) Andrew died in Brookfield, Worcester County, Massachusetts on 9 April 1852.

Virgil Sherman was born 4 Dec 1813 in Troy, Cheshire County, New Hampshire. He married Betsey Dickinson when he was 28 years old. They had 5 sons and their last child was finally a daughter. (Ref. 3) Two of their sons fought on the Union side of the Civil War. Son Joseph was captured by the Confederate Army and was imprisoned for 4 months.

After son Henry was discharged, Virgil, Betsey, Henry and brothers Francis and Samuel migrated to Iowa where Henry put $245 down on 80 acres of land. He never was put on the deed for the land and he obviously held it for less than the seven years between 1865 when he bought it and when he and his mother, Betsey Sherman moved to Trenton, Grundy County, Missouri and she died in 1872. Henry and his mother have not been found in the 1870 census but Virgil and son Samuel were listed in the 1870 census in Warren, Worcester County, Massachusetts with Harriet Button and her 2 sons living with them. After Betsey's death in 1872, Virgil married Harriet Button. (Ref. 4) In the 1880 census, another child, a girl was added. On Virgil's death certificate, he was listed as a widower. We don't know what happened to Harriet Button or her three children, two of which might have been Virgil's. Virgil died 14 June 1892 of senile gangrene in his foot and ankle. (See Page Sh-16)

The Death of Virgil Sherman

North Brookfield, Massachusetts
July 4, 1892

My Dear Brother, I was real glad to hear from you once more. It has been a long time since I have heard from you, but I have very sad news to tell you. Our Father passed away the fourteenth of June. He had an awful bad foot. The end of his toes turned black, and they kept turning black until it got above his joints, and then gangrene set in and it worked on his foot until it got above his ankle, and then we put on stuff that stopped it, after it got above his ankle, and then we had some awful hot days, and mortification set in and he didn't live, only about two days. After that set in he didn't even have a struggle. He had been with me about a year. The doctor came here three times a week, and when he grew worse he came every day. I done as well as I could possibly do for him. I hadn't had much work for some time. He says to me three days before he died, he looks up to me and says "Sammy, I am passing away." And them were the last words he said to me. I had the very best doctors there was in town, and there were six doctors in town.

You wanted to know how I am getting along. I have had a pretty hard pull this winter. My girls have all been very sick. The oldest one, I didn't think would live, but the Lord spared her life. She wasn't able to do anything until the middle of April. She was taken sick the 28th of December. She had pneumonia and typhoid fever. The other two had the sagrippi.

Well, I will send you my photograph. I feel very sorry for you that things have happened for you as they have, but it is a good thing that you have got one of your children with you, and I am in hopes the other one will come to you.

Well, I will close by bidding you good bye.

This is from your brother Samuel Sherman to Henry M. Sherman.

Be sure to write.

Henry Martin Sherman

Fourth Generation

Henry Martin Sherman was born on 7 December 1842 in Keene, Cheshire County, New Hampshire. He was the first born of six children, one of five sons. His parents moved to North Brookfield, Worcester County, Massachusetts in the next year having their second son, Francis, born in August of 1844. The father, Virgil Sherman, was a shoemaker and grew a lot of the food for the family as a farmer. Henry's mother was the former Betsey Hall Dickinson. On the 3rd of May, 1846 the third son, William Virgil, was born. Fourth son, Samuel Carvosa, was born 13 Sep 1847 and fifth son, Joseph N., was born 25 April 1849. The final child added to the family was a daughter, Louisa Betsey Sherman, born 4 Jun 1852.

When Henry was 18 years old and working as a farm hand in Hardwick, Massachusetts the civil war broke out. His immediate response was to enlist in the army to defend the federation. He went on a train to Annapolis, MD for boot camp. His army record at the age or 20 described Henry Sherman as 5'7", complexion – dark, eyes black and hair dark. He started a diary of his life experiences in the army which he periodically kept up until after he was discharged in 1865. From his diary we find the first battle action he was engaged in was in North Carolina where the Federal troops lost. He saw action in Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, New York and ended up in the hospital in Washington, D.C. before being transferred to the Dale General Hospital in Worcester, Massachusetts. In the battle for Petersburg, VA a shell had entered the ground near him and surfaced, exploding and injuring Henry's liver internally. He was not hospitalized immediately and kept having fever with diarrhea and stomach problems so severe, he was finally hospitalized. Henry was in 13 different battles and saw much suffering, as well as experiencing much hardship himself.

Henry's younger brother, Joseph N. Sherman, was captured by the Confederate Army at Cedar Creek, Virginia 13 Oct 1864 and confined at the infamous Libby Prison in Virginia for 4 months. He was exchanged for a confederate soldier and released 19 Feb. 1865. He was hospitalized in Baltimore, Maryland and was discharged earlier than Henry.

When Henry was discharged and given his severance pay and bonus the family was living in Warren, Worcester County, Massachusetts. From Henry's diary, his parents, and brothers Francis and Samuel all migrated to Iowa and Henry put money down on land there in Benton County near the town of Vinton. He never finished paying for the land and having the deed put in his name as the owner.

Henry and his mother, Betsy Sherman were living in Trenton, Grundy County, Missouri when Betsy Sherman died on 24 Oct 1872. Eight months later he married at age 30 ½ years of age to Frances Clara Flesher (age 17) on 26 Jun 1873. (Ref. 5) All the while they were married he called her Fannie. On 3 Sep 1876 a baby daughter was born to the couple in Trenton, Grundy County, Missouri. They named her Roselle Ida Sherman. Henry was working for the railroad and they moved to Lineville, Wayne County, Iowa where a son was born on 11 Feb 1878. The son was given the name of William Henry Sherman and called Billy. In the 1880 census for Iowa, living in Pleasant Twp. in Monroe County were Henry, Fannie, their two children and Henry's 3 ½ years younger brother, William Virgil Sherman (but called Bill) living with them and also working for the railroad.

In 1882 the family moved to Trinidad, Las Animas, Colorado where Henry continued to work for the Union Pacific Railroad. (Ref. 6) About 1891 Henry and Fannie separated, Roselle being about 15 and Billy being 13 years old. Henry was not able to support the family and himself so Fannie went to work as a chambermaid in a hotel in Trinidad. (Ref. 7) Roselle was very talented on the piano so they were purchasing one for her and giving her lessons. The piano had to be repossessed. Fannie did not make enough salary to pay for everything so she took in a boarder. Fannie was a small woman and Billy was taller than she at 14 so he behaved like most teen-age boys and stayed out later than he was supposed to. When he came home words were exchanged and the boarder, a gentleman, told Billy not to talk to his mother like he was. In the next few days Billy got a hold of his father, Henry Sherman and told him he was afraid that the boarder was going to kill him and asked to live with him. Henry and Billy Sherman left Trinidad in the spring of 1892 for the territory of Washington state with a fellow railroad worker and his family, named Streater. Frances never saw her son again nor any of the ten children he would subsequently have. It was 58 years before Roselle, his sister, saw Billy again.

In September 1892 Fannie filed for divorce from Henry Sherman in Colorado. Henry was working in November 1892 for a man in Orting, Washington. His son, Billy, was living with his Uncle Bill and friends in Buckley, Washington, approximately 15 miles from Orting. Billy was going to school there. In 1893 Henry and Billy went out on the Olympic Peninsula to homestead but the trip was not successful. Henry went to work in Tacoma, Washington and Billy and his Uncle Bill were in Buckley until sometime in 1896. (Ref.8) They moved to Everett, Washington and from there they went to Island County (Whidbey Island) where they got employment in the potato fields. Billy decided to call himself William Sherman. Henry returned to Everett where he worked intermittently for the railroad. His brother Bill also went to work in Everett. William, his son, met Lottie Black and they were married on 17 Oct 1900.

Henry Sherman's health was failing him and he couldn't hold on to a job. He applied for an increase to his pension on his civil war service but was refused. He moved to Coupeville to be with his son and his wife just before he died. Henry died 16 May 1902 in Coupeville, Island County, Washington just 12 days before William and Lottie's first son was born. His brother, Bill, was with him up to the end. He was buried in the Coupeville Cemetery.

OBITUARY

Henry Martin Sherman was born at Keene, New Hampshire, Dec. 7th, 1842, and died at Coupeville, Island County, Wash., May 16th, 1902, aged 60 years. Mr. Sherman's early manhood was spent in the peaceful and healthful occupation of farming until the civil war, when he promptly responded to the call for volunteers, served his country four long years and returned broken in health at the close. Railroading was his next occupation for 28 years; during this period he was wedded to Miss Fannie Flesher, two surviving children are the issue of this marriage, Rosa and William. The deceased died at the home of this son, who is a very highly respected young married man and farmer of this community. A brother, from Everett, also waited on him during his sickness.

Mr. Sherman came to Whidbey Island about six years ago and during this time earned and maintained the respect of all who knew him. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church a firm believer in salvation by Christ and sanctification by the Holy Spirit; he delighted to witness for Christ and to recommend His salvation to all. For him to live was Christ and for him to die was gain.

Mr. Sherman suffered ill heath during the last eight years of his life and from severe pain during his brief prostration. To one who said: "It must be hard to bear such pain," he replied, "Yes, but it is only for a moment, then the glory will be forever."

"Tis hard to break the tender cord
When love has bound the heart;
'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the words
'Must we forever part?'
"Dearest loved one we have laid thee
In the peaceful grave's embrace,
And thy memory will be cherished
Till we see thy heavenly face."

Headstone of Henry M. Sherman in the Coupeville Cemetery, Coupeville, Wash.

Roselle Ida Sherman King

Roselle Ida Sherman was the first born to Henry M. and Frances Clara Sherman on 3 Sept 1876. She was born in the town of Trenton, Grundy County, Missouri. Her father was employed by the railroad when it was in its' infancy. The family was living in Lineville, Wayne County, Iowa when son, William Henry Sherman, was born on 11 Feb 1878. In June of 1880 the family had moved to Pleasant, Monroe County, Iowa. William Sherman, Henry's younger brother, was living with the family and both of them worked for the railroad. The children must have spent some time in Grundy County, Missouri on their maternal grandparent's farm. In later years Grandpa Flesher wrote to Billy (William) and recalled the watermelon they used to eat. The next known information about the family was their residency in Trinidad, Las Animas County, Colorado in 1888. They were living at 918 Rosita Street and Henry was employed by the Union Pacific Railroad. (Ref. 8) They must have been living in Trinidad as early as 1886 since a picture of the children exists where Billy was about 8 years old and Roselle about 10 and the professional photographer was in Trinidad, Colorado. In April, 1892 Henry and his son, Billy, left for the Pacific Northwest, ending up in Island County, Washington. In October of 1892, Frances Clara filed for divorce in Arapahoe County, Colorado. Frances Clara and Roselle, who was 16 years old by now, stayed in Trinidad, Colorado. Frances Clara changed her name to Clara Frances and on 12 March 1893 she married William J. Bowlden. (Ref. 9) On the 6th of July 1893 Roselle married Walter Newton King in Trinidad, Las Animas County, Colorado with Walter's brother, Gus King, and Roselle's stepfather, William J. Bowlden, as witnesses. (Ref. 9)

Roselle and Walter King had a son born on 5 June 1894 in the house of Clara and Will Bowlden at 918 Rosita, Trinidad, Colorado. Walter worked as a conductor for the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad. In 1900 the family was living in Picton, Huerfano County, Colorado and still consisted of Roselle, Walter and son, Earl Wayne King. (Ref. 10) In 1902 the family was registered in the city directory of Pueblo, Pueblo County, Colorado living at 502 Bluff. Some time before September, Roselle and Earl went to Sophris, a little mining town in Huerfano County, Colorado where Roselle's mother, Clara Frances, and Will Bowlden were living, Will being the manager of the company store for the mine owners, the Rockafeller family. Roselle was expecting a baby and she wanted to be with her mother at delivery. On 13 Sept. 1902 a daughter, Fay Lenora, was born. She was a frail baby but with Clara's help she grew and they were able to return to Pueblo and Walter. When Roselle applied for a birth certificate for son, Earl, in 1941 she stated she had 7 live births but only 2 living children. She never revealed the circumstances of her deceased children. Her daughter, Fay, at 92 years of age was shocked at the information that was revealed in a copy of Earl's birth certificate. The eight years between Earl and Fay apparently was time for the other 5 live births. Roselle was quite an accomplished pianist and had played for public dances and other affairs. How she got her music education is not known. When Walter was in town, they often would go to concerts given in the local concert hall or in the Mineral Palace. Apparently both had an enjoyment of music.

By 1914 son, Earl, had joined his father working for the Denver & Rio Grande Western railroad as a switchman. In 1917 Earl joined the army to serve in World War I. He was ready to go overseas when the armistice was signed and Earl was discharged in 1919. Earl returned to his old job at the railroad. In 1920 he married Gladys Speer and he set up his own household. (Ref. 11). Earl's wife had a son in April 1921 that lived only 4 days. Roselle's mother and Will Bowlden now had a grocery store in San Diego, California. In July 1921 Will died and Roselle and her daughter, Fay, went out to San Diego to help Clara dispose of the store and move back to Colorado to live with them.

Three Generations: Frances Clara Flesher Bowlden (mother),
Earl Wayne King (grandson) and Roselle Ida Sherman King (daughter)

By 1925 Roselle and Walter had moved into their very own house at 418 W. Abriendo in Pueblo, Colorado. Daughter, Fay, married that year and moved out leaving only Walter and Roselle with Grannie (Clara). The next year was a tragic one. Earl's wife died of cancer of the uterus. Also Fay was divorced and both of the children came back home to live with Walter and Roselle. Earl lived with them until July 1929 when he married Hazel Hall Philhour, a divorcee. (Ref. 12)

On 30 November 1929 Clara Frances (Grannie) died at the age of 73. Life had settled down, when tragedy struck again. On 29 March 1931 Walter Newton King died of a heart attack at the age of 68. Earl and his wife were expecting their first child but Walter didn't live to see his grandchildren. Janet Katherine was born on 13 August 1931. Roselle and Fay lived on in the house for a while but the expense proved too costly. Roselle and Fay moved to Walsenburg and Earl and his family moved into the West Abriendo house. By this time Earl and Hazel had two daughters, Janet and Vera Lou, born on 25 January 1933. The big depression had settled in by this time. Earl was experiencing problems with alcoholism and keeping up the house payments proved too much for him also. Roselle had to sell the house. In 1935 Fay married a policeman, William Christopher, from Hollywood, California who was a cousin to her best friend. She moved to California and Roselle followed shortly after.

Roselle tried living part of the time with each of the children but it didn't work out with Earl and Hazel. She ended up living with Fay and William Christopher in North Hollywood. Fay never had any children. In the 1940's William Christopher's father died and his mother came to live with them also.

In all the years since her parent's divorce, Roselle never saw her younger brother, Billy. They did correspond a little, but her mother died, not having seen her son since he was 14 years old and she never saw any of her 10 grandchildren he parented. After 58 years, William and his wife, Lottie, came to California with one of his son-in-law's and two daughters to visit. Lottie had a stroke in 1951 and died in 1953. Roselle had health problems for years, a condition called dropsy where her lungs filed up with water. She had rheumatic fever as a child and never fully recovered from its effects. On the 28th of January 1954, Roselle Ida Sherman King died in North Hollywood and was buried in the Hollywood Hills section of Forest Lawn Cemetery in North Hollywood. When she died she was 77 years old. One of her hobbies and talents was crocheting. She made many handmade doilies, edgings for pillowslips and the blocks for a tablecloth that never got put together.

William Henry Sherman

Fifth Generation

William Henry Sherman (Billy) was born February 11, 1878 in Lineville, Wayne County, Iowa to Henry Sherman and Frances Clara Sherman. He had a 1½ year old sister named Roselle Ida. His father was working laying track for the railroad that was going in. His father's younger brother, Bill, was living with the family and working on the railroad gang as well. (Ref. 13) In about 1882 the entire family with Bill moved to Trinidad, Colorado. Bill lived in a boarding house and Henry and Fannie, as she was called, rented a house up on the hill overlooking Trinidad to the east. There were a great many Mexican people in Trinidad and Billy learned to speak Spanish in school. When Billy was 13 years old his "Papa" moved out of the house. Fannie had to find work to pay the rent, utilities and food for herself and the 2 children. She finally took in a boarder to help make ends meet.

One evening Billy came in later than his mother had told him to. He was 14 years old now and felt he could. When his mother, who was small of stature, started admonishing him, he began to talk back to her. The boarder, Will Bowlden, grabbed the youth that was a lot taller than his mother, and pushed him against the wall and told him he couldn't talk to his mother like that as long as he was around. Billy interpreted the action as a threat to his life. As soon as he was able, he got hold of Henry, his "Papa", and told him he wanted to live with him. Henry made arrangements on the railroad and he and Billy took a train to the western part of state of Washington. Billy never saw his mother again. William, as he was known the rest of his life, told his children he never forgave his mother for breaking up his home. Henry and William left Colorado in mid-April 1892 taking a train to the state of Washington. In March 1893 Frances Clara Sherman married Will Bowlden after obtaining a divorce from Henry Sherman.

Henry's bachelor brother, Bill, raising chickens, was living in Buckley, a town east of Tacoma, Washington. Henry and Billy stayed with him for a while. Henry found odd jobs there and in Orting. Henry decided to take a land claim up the Queets River beside a claim a railroad friend of his, named Streater had made. He and Billie took passage 24 Feb 1893 on a steamer from Seattle to Port Angeles and out on the straights toward Neah Bay. They must have walked on a trail or road up to the Queets. Henry did take up a claim and stayed until they starved out. The claim episode failed and he headed for the town of Aberdeen, on the Pacific Ocean. The first night they stayed with an Indian and his wife. Henry finally went to work in Tacoma for the railroad and Billy finished the eighth grade in Buckley, Washington. (Ref.8). Billy got a job in a sawmill for 10 cents an hour for 10 hour days. He worked there for a while and then decided to join his father. They decided to go to Everett, Washington in the summer of 1897. Billy felt he was an experienced 'mill man'. He applied for and got a job in a mill in Everett making paving blocks for the city. The night before he was to start work the mill burned down. Billy decided about this time to go by the name of William since he had "grown up" and was working.

In 1898 Henry and William were commenting about a store window with a display of wheat and potatoes grown on Whidbey Island, of which they had never heard. Overhearing their conversation, Captain Harry Barrington of the S.S. Fairhaven, informed them about Whidbey Island and offered to take them there that afternoon at 3 o'clock where he could get them work in the potato fields. They went and were offered a house to rent and work. William found work cutting cordwood to burn as fuel for the S.S. Fairhaven. Soon Henry returned to Everett but William stayed on. William also found work in a sawmill as he was strong and a willing worker. William became acquainted with the LeSourd children whose mother was a real power in the Coupeville Community and Methodist Church. Mrs. Mary LeSourd saw that William had a good many Sunday dinners that she feared he otherwise would go lacking.

Just a little ways down the road from where William lived, another civil war veteran, Clark Black and his wife Mary had their home. William courted their youngest daughter, Lottie Nettie Black. They were married on 17 Oct 1900 in Lottie's parent's residence in Coupeville. (Ref. 14) In the fall of 1901 William purchased 10 acres of land on what later would be named Sherman Road. Grandpa Henry Sherman came to live with them in 1902 in bad health. Henry M. Sherman died 16 May 1902 twelve days before William's first child, Clark, was born. The ten children born to William and Lottie were Clark, born 28 May 1902; Wilbur, born 18 Apr 1904; Iva, born 2 Sep 1905; Mary, born 4 Jun 1907; Doris, born 18 Dec 1908 and died 27 Dec 1918 from the world wide influenza epidemic; Raleigh, born 7 Aug 1910; Nina, born 14 Aug 1912; Edwin, born 20 Dec 1917; Arline, born 14 Jan 1920; and Cora, born 14 Jan 1927.

William was to become well known for his gooseberry farm. In 1909 he sent his first harvest of gooseberries to Seattle via steamer to a commission house and received enough money to venture a trip to Seattle for the Alaska-Yukon Exposition. Later William grew squash. When his sons grew up the two oldest boys farmed, growing turkeys and hubbard squash. In the 1940's when William no longer grew gooseberries, he received a letter from the company that had processed his berries. The envelope contained only a check for $12,000.00. William thought it was a mistake but it wasn't. A few days later another check arrived for over a thousand dollars. William and Lottie bought their first brand new car with part of the money. Occasionally they would go to Mt. Vernon, shop a little, have dinner out and maybe see a movie. What a wonderful help to winding down their lives!

In 1950 William, Lottie, daughter Mary, daughter Arline and son-in-law Ed Mulvihill drove to North Hollywood, California to see William's sister, Roselle Sherman King, that William had not seen in 58 years. He also visited with his mother's younger sister, Laura Flesher Reiger, which he had not seen for at least the same amount of time. In 1951 Lottie had a stroke that left her paralyzed. Daughter Mary had become a widow and was working as the Island County Clerk. She had 3 young children to care for so she rented her house out and moved in with her parents, caring for her mother after she came home from work. Lottie lived until 3 April 1953 paralyzed on one side with her personal care done by William and Mary. Some of the other children helped with chores on the farm that William usually did. William lived an additional seven years missing his wife of 53 years. He died on 12 Feb 1960. Both are buried in the Coupeville Cemetery where Henry M. Sherman is buried.

Johannes Peter Fleischer

First Generation

Johannes Peter Fleischer was born 1 May 1721 in Ober-Seemen, Hesse, Germany near the Black Forest. When a young man, he was a member of the Imperial Prussian Guard. Johannes Peter Fleischer and family arrived on the ship Phoenix on 2 Nov 1752 in Philadelphia, PA. They lived for a while in the Penn Colony near Philadelphia.

Prior to 1765, he and others in the family moved to the South Branch of the Potomac River. A record of Peter Fleischer having 20 acres of land surveyed near West Gap on 29 Mar 1755 indicates that he was well to do enough to have paid his way on the ship and did not have to serve someone else for seven years. Peter bought 200 acres of land in Highland County, VA near the state line dividing Highland from Pendleton County, WV from Thomas Parsons in 1765. Upon this land the homestead was established.

Peter and his wife, Anna Theil, whom he married 26 May 1747 had 9 children; at least the first two were born in Germany. When Peter married he listed his occupation as a shoemaker. Children were: John, Conrad, Henry (Major), Elizabeth, Palsar (Pulsor), William, Peter, and Barbara (Ref. 1)

Peter was naturalized on 22 Aug 1770 in Augusta County, VA. (Ref. 2) Both Anna and Peter are buried in the Fleischer Cemetery, Blue Grass, Highland County, Va. No stone remains. (Ref 3)

New Headstone for Rev. War Vet

Descendants of Henry Fleischer (1758-1821), a Veteran of the American Revolutionary War, laid a headstone at his grave near Monterey, VA recently. A dedication ceremony is to be held Jul 3rd, as the Fleisher clan gathers for their annual reunion near there.

Henry Fleisher was born in Holland, Germany and came with his father, Peter Fleisher, to Port Philadelphia, PA around the middle of the 18th Century. They then relocated to Pendleton Co., VA just six miles north of Monterey, VA, on US Rt 220.

The homestead now is located on the line between WV and VA with land in both states.

He married Susan Catherine Peninger in 1777 to which union was born 11 children two of which died in infancy. Of the nine children, seven went west with the two youngest inheriting the home place. Four of these children; Henry Jr., Conrad, George and Barbara [Fleischer] Hefner went to Fayette Co., OH around 1810 and all owned land and engaged in business there. Henry Jr. was a blacksmith and the others were farmers. While he was there, Henry Jr. was wounded in the War of 1812 and had nine children born in Fayette Co., OH.

Curtis E. Fleisher, of Washington Court House, Ohio, became a member of Arthur St. Claire Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution by way of his great-great-great grandfather, Henry Fleisher. He applied for a stone from the Veterans Administration to mark the grave of Henry, who served under General Washington. Henry was listed as a sergeant at Valley Forge, PA, and later promoted to lieutenant.

Some of his travels included Tigert Valley, Winchester, Jersey and Middlebrook. He was on a two year enlistment from Augusta Co., VA, and served in Capt Michael Bowyer's Co., the 12th VA Regt, commanded by Col. James Wood, and Gen. Scott's Brigade. He was in the battle of Brandywine, Germantown and other skirmishes.

After the Revolutionary War, he continued to serve in the militia of Pendleton Co. where he achieved the rank of major. He had a son, Benjamin, who was also sheriff of said county, according to some reports.

On June 9th, Curtis and Janet Fleisher, accompanied by brother-in-law, Glenn Botkin, Jr., of McDowell, VA, took the stone, which was delivered in April to their residence in Wash. Court House, OH. They set it in concrete in the Fleisher Cemetery.

Conrod Flesher

Conrod was the first born of Henry Flesher and his wife Susan Catharine Peninger whose parents had migrated from Germany in 1752. He was born on 7 Dec 1780 in Augusta County, Virginia. His grandfather, Johannes Peter Fleischer, had willed the plantation in Crabbottom, along the south branch of the Potomac River, in what is now Pendleton, West Virginia. Conrod married Elizabeth Ann Lemon, daughter of Frederick Lemon and Marie Sea, on 19 Jul 1802 in Botetourt County, Virginia. (Ref.4). In the Spring of 1804 the family migrated to Fayette County, Ohio, where they lived on their farm until 1828, when the greater family moved to McLean County, Illinois. Conrod served his country in the War of 1812 as a Captain in the Ohio Militia, from Fayette County.

Their new home was established about one quarter mile southwest of the city limits of present day Lexington. Prayer meetings were held there regularly by the members of the new settlement, and the first revival meeting was conducted in the home. Out of this meeting came the organization of the First United Brethren Church of Lexington, for which Mr. Flesher donated the ground.

A few years later, the family moved to Warren County, Iowa. Soon after locating there, Elizabeth Flesher's health failed and Conrod and Elizabeth returned to Illinois, hoping to benefit her health. She died in Lexington, McLean County, Illinois on 7 Dec 1855. She is buried in the Scroggin Cemetery in Lexington. Conrod returned to Warren County, Iowa where his brother Henry and several of Conrod's children and their families were living. Conrod was 86 years old when he died on 11 Dec 1866 in Palmyra, Warren County, Iowa. (Ref. 5)

Frederick Lemon Flesher

Fourth Generation

Born on 6 Dec 1821, Frederick Lemon Flesher was the eighth child to be born to Conrod and Elizabeth Lemon Flesher. He was born in Paint Township, Fayette County, Ohio seven years before the entire greater Flesher family moved to McLean County, Illinois. Land was getting expensive for the young families just starting out and they had just opened up land sales in the Illinois territory. Frederick's parents were very active in the Christian community, which left a very strong impression for the course of Frederick's life. He was a very devout Christian. Frederick spent his life farming and doing house carpentry.

Frederick married Harriet Ann Denham on 15 Dec 1842 in Lexington, McLean County, Illinois. (Ref. 6) They had their first child, a daughter, Sarah Elizabeth Flesher on 7 Oct 1843 and a son, Abbott Goddard Flesher on 17 Aug 1846. On 30 May 1849 another son, John Denham Flesher was born but lived only 25-1/2 months, dying 18 July 1851. Around 1852 the extended family decided to move to Warren County, Iowa where daughter Harriet Ann was born on 13 May 1853. Frederick's wife, Harriet died on 18 May 1854, just days after her latest child had her first birthday. (Ref. 7)

Two months later Frederick married his first cousin, Almyra Ann Lemon on 13 July 1854. Frederick's parents had moved back to Lexington, McLean County, Illinois because of his mother's failing health. She died on 7 Dec 1855 and was buried in the Scroggin Cemetery in McLean County, Illinois. His father, Conrod Flesher, returned to Warren County, Iowa where his brother Henry and four of Conrod's chilren and their families had located.

Frederick and Almyra had their first child, Frances Clara Flesher on 15 June 1856 in Palmyra, Warren County, Iowa. A second daughter, Ida Luella Flesher was born on 23 April 1858. Ida was almost four months old when Harriet Ann (second daughter by the first marriage) died on 11 Aug 1858 at the age of 5 years. According to the 1860 census for Warren County, Iowa, Frederick and Almyra had their first son, named Douglas, in 1859. He was on the 1860 census in Warren Co., IA but he was not on the 1870 census nor was he recorded in the family Bible.

A son, Eugene Willard Flesher was born on 2 May 1860 in Palmyra, Warren County, Iowa. Two years later another son, Ellsworth Elmer Flesher was born on 13 Aug 1862. Thomas Jefferson Flesher was born on 25 Sept 1864 and Conrod R. Flesher was born 7 Nov 1866 all in Palmyra, Warren County, Iowa. Frederick's father died on 11 Dec 1866 just a little over a month after his namesake, grandson Conrod was born.

Approximately 1867 the family moved to Grundy County, Missouri where on 16 Nov 1868 Laura Louella Flesher was born. Daughter, Ida Luella Flesher died on 6 Oct 1870 in Madison township, Grundy County, Missouri at the age of 12 years. George Paris Flesher was born 26 May 1871. On 26 June 1873 Frederick and Almyra's oldest daughter, Frances Clara (nicknamed Fannie) was married to Henry M. Sherman, a civil war veteran from Massachusetts. (Ref. 8) Five months after Fannie was married Almyra gave birth to May Belle Flesher on 8 Dec 1873. Frederick Lemon Flesher, Jr was born 7 Jan 1876 and on 3 Sept 1876 a baby girl, Roselle Ida was born to Fannie and Henry Sherman in Trenton, Grundy County, Missouri. This was Frederick and Almyra's first grand-daughter. Frederick had grandchildren by Sarah Elizabeth Flesher and Abbott Goddard Flesher, his first wife's children.

Within a year Fannie and Henry moved to Wayne County, Iowa as Henry's job with the railroad took him there. William Henry Sherman was born on 11 Feb 1878 in Lineville, Wayne County, Iowa to Fannie and Henry. The twelfth and last child born to Frederick and Almyra was a girl they named Rosa Etta Flesher who was born on 28 May 1879 in Grundy County, Missouri.

Not much is known about the lives of Frederick and Almyra until 1892 when Fannie and Henry Sherman got a divorce and Henry took Billy (William Henry) to the state of Washington. Henry and Frederick were very close, possibly because of their intense Christian beliefs and Frederick corresponded with Billy and Henry in Washington and Billy saved those letters. From them we can fill in Frederick Flesher's life.

Rosa Etta Flesher was married 1 month before she was 16 years old on 29 April 1895. She took sick in August and died the 22 October 1895, almost 6 months after her marriage. Frederick's letters didn't explain her illness except that she was confined to bed the 2 months and he and Almyra kept a vigil at her bedside the entire time. Frederick Lemon Flesher, Jr. contracted tuberculosis and 16 months after he married Gertrude McCoy, he died on 18 April 1900.

Almyra developed a bad cough and lung congestion (dropsy) about the turn of the century. She died on 26 April 1906, Frederick wrote his grandson. Fifteen months later Frederick's son Eugene Willard Flesher died on 7 August 1907 at the age of 47 years, leaving his wife Ollie with four children ranging in age from 20 months to 19 years old.

Frederick's daughter Laura Flesher Rieger was living in a sod house in Keyser, Elbert County, Colorado. Since her marriage in 1884 she had 8 children, 7 living. In the summer of 1911, Frederick at the age of 89 years wanted to see his daughter Laura one more time. He was sickly when he left Trenton, but he boarded the train anyway. He died while visiting and his youngest living daughter, May Belle Herbert and her daughter Mary took the train for Colorado as soon as they learned Frederick was seriously ill. They didn't arrive before he died. They accompanied his body on the train for burial in Metcalf Cemetery in Grundy County, Missouri beside Almyra, his wife of 52 years. (Ref. 9)

LETTERS FROM THE FARM (TRENTON, MISSOURI)

By F.L. FLESHER

To Henry AND BILL SHERMAN

The Letters of Frederick Lemon Flesher to Billie Sherman and Henry Sherman 1892- 1905

Trenton, Missouri June 24, 1892

Dear Billie,
Your kind letter received. Glad to hear from you and learn you were well. This leaves us all well as common, and all your relations here are well. Your Uncle Abe has gone back on the farm, but is going to move back to town again. He has gone back on the (rail) road again to work. He has his old run again that he had when he quit. Well Billie, the Lord has broken the long drought in Missouri by giving us lots of rain. Every few days this has brought about the finest prospects for a crop of everything I ever saw in Missouri. Never has such fine crops of corn, fruit, potatoes, garden stuff, small grain millet. In fact everything that can be raised in this climate never has been better up to this writing. But the Chinch-bug is thick over the country, and what they will do, no-one knows. Fred has (a) halfdays plowing to do yet. Then he is done for the year. Our corn is over. A horse is back and one place silker out, so your school is out. So you failed to pass. If you go this winter then you will be alright. Well what is your Pa doing? What will you do this summer? How is times out there? They are gaining some here. George has a fine crop, and a splendid melon patch. Our peach trees is full of peaches. Our early apples is getting ripe. I have commenced hauling them to town. Have lots of them. You ought to be here to eat red June apples and drink some fine cider. I got a letter from your mother the other day. She was well and talks like she is coming home, her and Rosa this summer, and stay another month or two. I am afraid she don't get along very well. Laura your aunt still lives at Cripple Creek, Colorado. Charley is working his gold mine. Now old man Jennings is out there mining for himself. Boards with Charley Landa. Jennings is running the mill town. Well Billie, there will be a big celebration on the 4th of July on the fair grounds. Will be thousands of people there. Also a county celebration of all the Sunday schools in the county. I wish you were here to go along with us. Rosa lives 8 miles from home. She has a good man. Hobbs lives with his mother. His wife is homely. I think her legs is too long. We are going to have another rail road to Trenton. This road will be built this summer. The surveyors are running the line. This will give our town another boom, and will give work for idle men. Coon is still at Stanberg. Ell is some place in Kansas. I don't know but he runs into Omaha on the express. He never writes to me anymore. It is very hot and looks like rain. I will have a hundred bushels of potatoes to put up for the winter, and 600 fine cabbage. Will put up 150 bushels of apples besides lots of other things for winter. Well, I must close. Write soon. Tell you Pa I will answer soon his letter, and send him some papers. This from your Grandpa and Grandma. To Billie Sherman, Grandson

Trenton, Missouri
December 20, 1892

Well Billie, your letter received. Glad to hear from you (and) learn you and your Pa was well, and learn you was going to school. This leaves us all about usual in health. Hope it may find you well. Weather is fine for work, but some cold. Mercury marked 4 degrees below this morning with an inch and a half of snow, but clear and sun shine. Times good. Plenty of every-thing raise to live on, and lots to spare. You ought to see our grocery stores, how they are piled full of everything to eat that a heart could wish. And toys for Christmas by the million, and Santa Claus. Everything full. Well Billie, I have killed my hogs and made lots of sausage and sauces, and I got 120 lbs. Of lard. We are living fat now. If I had some of those salmon to fry for Christmas I would be alright. If you was here Billie to take Christmas with us. I have bought a big turkey for holidays. Well, your Uncle and friends is all well, Ell is going to the bluffs to be a hustler and a night foreman of the roundhouse. Coon will stay at Stanberry, and fire a freight from here to the bluffs. Abe is going to move his family on his farm in the Spring, and Louis is going to run the farm, and his Ma will raise chickens and pigs. Your Uncle Tom will tend part of the place. Abe will board in town and continue railroading. I have written different times to your mother and sent her papers, but she never writes a word to me, nor Rosie never writes. I don't know why. I would like to see Washington and kill some of them big bears, and catch some of them big salmon, and see the green grass and the plumage of those beautiful birds that inhabit Washington. When you come back after Bigah I will go back with you and see all those wonders. Write soon. This from Grandpa and Grandma to Billie Sherman, Grandson, Washington.

Trenton, Missouri April 20, 1893

Well Henry, After Love and respects would say, well as common. Only myself, I have been very unwell for three months with kidney trouble. Not able to do anything. All of your friends well. Abe's folks has moved out on his farm and is farming. Abe boards in town and runs the road as usual. Nothing new and not any changes in business has taken place since last letter to you. We are having dreadful backward Spring snow. Freezing has been the order of nature ever since winter broke, and no rain until Tuesday last, since last summer. Today it is snowing and cold. I think will kill all the fruit. My peach trees is loaded with blooms almost out. Some is out. Apricots in bloom, cherries in bloom, almost out. Pears out in bloom. If this don't kill them it will be a surprise. Farmers have lots of corn planted, but will have to plant over again.. I think I forgot if I answered your last letter or not. Have you been out to Jefferson County yet or not? If so tell me about it. Is Billie going to school yet or not? What is Billie and you doing? Have you early Spring out there? I have not heard from Trinidad for four months. They never answer my letters. Not heard from Laura in five months. Coon and Ell is still at Stansberry on the road. Pops Bratton's barn was struck down by lightning nite before last and burnt up. One thousand bushels of corn, four hundred bushels of wheat, a self binder mowing machine, cultivator, all of his farming tools, plows, harnesses. Cleaned out. Barn cost over thousand dollars. Well Henry, while I am writing to you the wind is howling round the eaves of the house, and moaning thru the forest trees in the distance, that makes me feel lost, and refers my mind back to your beautiful evergreen country where birds are basking in beautiful, warm sunshine, making the forest ring with songs of joy and happiness. I hope this kind of weather here, snowing as it is today, and blowing, will not last always. Times seem to be fair in this country. Trenton is cut off into a third class city now, and holds city elections by wards and is improving.

Well, I will now, after dinner finish your letter. Wind has reached almost a hurricane today, but seems to down alittle. I reckon Billie has fine fun after ducks with his new gun. I would love to be there to go hunting with him, and fishing in the sound. This would please me wonderful to catch some of this fine fish your country affords. I would have all I could eat once in my life. We got none here.

George, Fred and myself is going to put 2 and a half acres in melons as soon as the ground will do. I am not done planting my corn yet. George has got him a fine team, and new harnesses. Fred has a team, but Fred has not got over cold and hemorage of the lungs. But is so he can work alright. We are very careful of him to keep him from taking cold. It has been very sickly in Missouri this winter. Lots of sickness and deaths. Brown still runs the Provzy section. I have not heard if Rosa was married this spring or not. Well, I must close for this time hoping to hear from you soon. I wrote to Billie some time ago but have no answer yet. Everyone has plenty to eat and drink in Missouri, and very cheap, except for potatoes. They are high, selling from $1 to $1.50 a bushel. Corn is 40 cents a flat. Wheat is very poor in Missouri. A half crop. Write soon. I will send you some papers soon.

This F.L. Flesher to Henry Sherman and Billie Sherman, Grandson, Washington.

Trenton, Missouri July 4, 1894

Well, Henry and Will, answer your kind letter. Glad to hear from you and learn you and Billie was well and got those papers you sent. This leaves us all well as common, and all the boys and families as fair as I. Now Ell is at Kansas City running the switch engine. His family is in Norton, Kansas. Well, I suppose everything in the shape of railroad is tied completely up all over the United States. Section men laid off. Not one pound of beef, pork, goods, horses, cattle, hogs, nothing shipped to no town or city. Coal miners laid off. Goods and groceries will be getting scarce soon, and nobody knows how long this state of affairs is going to last. It's labor against capital now. Both in dead earnest. I think the rail strikers will gain the point this time in spite of all that can be done if they hold out. Railroad companies can't let there rolling stock lay idle long, and roads be loused up. There bonds is running due interest too and must be paid. John says he saw the angel of the Lord lay hold of the dragon and bound him a thousand years, after which he should be loosed a little season. This must be the times now, for since God made man the nature of the earth never has been in such shape as now. This undoubtedly is the time spoken of in the Bible. When every bodies hand should be against his neighbors. All this trouble is the beginning of sorrow. God only knows when the end will come. We are having an awful drought. It has rained but twice since last winter. Everything the farmer has got to live on will be entirely burnt up in the next week without rain. All our beries is burnt up now. The gardens all gone, and no time off. The mercury ranges from 94 degrees to 100 degrees in the shade. Hay crops gone up. God knows what people will do. You can't get one dollar out of the banks, sell nothing for money, nor get a days work. There is more idle men in Trenton today than I ever saw. About 4,000 in our town. My early apples is ripe, but small. My winter apples will be burned up. Well Billie, I have the same place in melon I had when you was here They look beautiful. If it does rain in a day or two I will have hundreds of melons. Fred has one and a fourth acres in melons in partnership. I would love for you to be here. Well I must close. Write soon. Will send you some papers. This from your Father and Mother, to Henry and Billie Sherman.

Trenton, Missouri December 16, 1894

Well Billie Sherman, after a long time I will try to drop a line to you. Your letter came alright. I was waiting to get your likeness before answering your letter. It has just come to hand alright. We all think it is splendid. I am going to put it in a nice frame to hang it up in the room this week. Well, we are all well except your Grandma...She never will be well anymore. All of your Uncles and Aunts in this country is well and still railroading. Your Uncle Ell is at Herrington, Nebraska running the switch engine. Coon is still at Stanberry, Missouri. Abe and Gene are in Trenton, your Uncle Tom is farming, your Uncle George was married a month ago and moved to themselves today one and one half miles from here. He is going to farm. Mrs. Hobb's folks are all well, Anne Hobbs is married so is still at home. Says she wold love to see you and take a rabbit hunt with you again. Fred will farm our place this year if he keeps well, but still has a bad cough. Not very stout times. It is tough here, but is improving alittle. Everything is cheap. Horses, you can buy a good span of horses for 50 to 60 dollars. Colts and three years old from 15 to 25 dollars. Goods and groceries is cheap. Corn is worth 60 cts., flour 75 to 90 cts., sack best. Our first crop was very poor again this year on the account of the drought, and the dry weather. Still continues, the likes never now in Missouri before, but it still remains warm and beautiful. Plowing is still going on. I suppose you have fine warm weather out there with the woods full of nice flowers and evergreens, with beautiful birds chirping among the boughs of natures forest, while the wind is moaning through its branches. Evening walks would be pleasant through places of this kind for me. If I was there for a while I would be meditating on the wonderful works of the Almighty and His wisdom in forming and shaping nature in the wonderful way He done. Well Billie, I am glad you have joined the church. Hope you stick to it and hold out to the end, for only those will be saved in the final wind up of all things. He that endureth to the end shall be saved. Blessed are those that have lot and part in the first resurrection. Upon such, the second death hath no power. We would like to see you and your Pa. Hope you come back someday and see us and stay with us, and have a good time hunting quails, and rabbits with Lou and Fred, and eating big water-melons. I am going to raise a big patch this year if I live. Well, I must close. Write soon. Tell us all about your country. Be sure to write.
This from your Grandfather and Grandma to Billie Sherman, Grandson, Buckley, Washington.

Trenton, Missouri April 11, 1895

Well Billie Sherman, after a long time I will try and drop a line to you. This leaves us all well for the first time in a long time. Hope this may find you well. Your friends is all well. The boys is all railroading and farming together. George lives about one and a half miles from home, farming. Getting out a fine crop of everything. George has belonged to church this long time. Fred and Rosa joined church. This winter Fred is the only boy at home. Has sowed 4 acres of oates. Planted a fine potato patch, and has 7 acres almost ready. Plant corn next week. We will plant 12 acres of corn if nothing turns up to prevent us, but the people are suffering wonderful for the rain. It will soon be two years since we had any rain to do the earth any good. And if the Lord don't send rain soon, all will be lost. Fred and myself is going to plant one acre of melons this spring. Joe Hobbs is farming at home, Guy is helping. Ann is married. The other two is grown up. Our place will be covered with fruit this year if rain comes in time. This country looks about like it did when you was here. Our town has growed big with street cars through it. They have two colleges large and fine buildings. How are you getting along? Learning this winter? Hope you are doing well, but I must close and go to town and mail your letter.
This from your Grandpa and Grandma to our Grandson Billie Sherman.
Our peach tree is loaded with blooms. Would like to have you here to eat peaches with us, and enjoy eating red June apples and drink cider. I have a cider mill of my own.

Trenton, Missouri November 12, 1895

Well Billie, will answer your letter. We are well at this time. Hope you are enjoying good health and happiness. But death visited our family. Rosa died the 22nd of last month after an illness of two months. She took sick at home. Everything was done for her that could be done. Two doctors waited on her every day, but to no avail. She had to go. For three weeks her mother and me never had our clothes off. Was by her bed day and night, but God called for her, and she had to go. The rest of your friends is well. Miss Wiley Hobbs was buried yesterday. Joe and his folks is all well. The weather is beautiful. We are gathering our corn. It is fine. Every-thing plenty in this country for want. Best potatoes 20 cents a bushel. Corn 20 to 25 cents, cabbage 25 cents a dozen. Apples sold to shippers for 25 cents a bushel. Times are fair. Do you ever hear from your Mother? Will you ever come to see us? Are you going to school this winter? I still have old Barney. Trenton has grown out of your knowledge. You would not know this town. Write soon.
This from your Grandpa and Grandma to Billie Sherman, Grandson.

Note: Son, Fred Flesher, Jr. died of tuberculosis 18 April 1900 at the age of 24 years. He had been married only 1-1/2 years.

Trenton, Missouri March 24, 1901

Well Henry, today is Sunday and me and your Mother is at home by ourselves, so I thought of you and concluded to write to you, for this is the only way I have of conversing with you since you have got so far away from us. This leaves us about as usual in health. My wife is still very feeble, up and down coughing very bad, and her lungs in bad shape. My health is good, but my kidneys and bladder is in a bad fix. I still can work a little in my orchard; pruning and cutting out dead limbs as they occur in the trees. I have a fine prospect for a big crop of fruit and have in abundance almost all kinds. This month has been awfully ugly; snow, freeze through, and wind to beat all, but such is March weather. Ell did not get a job in Oklahoma. He went to Greenville, Texas and got a job there for Abe, and wrote to Abe to come, and Abe left on the spot down there and got the job. So they both running the road from Greenville to Freeport, Alabama. This leaves but one boy here anymore, and one daughter, Bell. And all the rest of my family scattered all over and gone. But such is the case of lots of families in this world. But will all be gathered together some day before the Judge of the Universe, and then, I am afraid they will be scattered again never to be together no more. Well times is close here. Still nothing doing, nor no prospects ahead is I can see, but immigration, moving farther west. I have not heard from Al Carter yet. Will let you know where he is when I hear from him. Well, things look pretty squally over the pond again. Russia and England. Count Van Walder fails to reconcile Russia and England over the railway or disputed territory. England will have to squat or fight, one of the two. England can't fight Russia, Japan and probably France and the Transvale all at the same time. If she does, her power as a nation will be lost forever, and her domain divided up so the United States keeps out alright. We have more wars on our hands now than we can manage in the next six years to come. It keeps old Hanna busy getting transports to ship live troops to the Phillipian Islands and dead ones back, while the money power looks on and smiles, which means more soldiers, more tax, more bonds for the poor man to pay and less wages. It takes more money to support an empire than a free republican government. Old Hanna's ship suicide bill (? Unintelligible) if it passes, will be more to pay. Well I suppose lots of immigration is pouring to Washington from all points carrying lots of money so times will still continue to be good (in) Washington. No doubt will be a great state in the course of time. Its natural shipping advantages will always keep it up, and its fine climate and good land. I got your paper you sent. Many thanks for it. I will send some soon. There is nothing from Rosa and Walter. They never write to me. I got a letter from Fanny Christmas with $5. in it for a Christmas present. Not heard from her since. Charley is a going to sell out and buy him a farm some place. He is about to sell his claims to a Boston Company at good figures. He has a deed for 15 acres of land right in the gold diggin's on Bull Mountain. Well, does Billie get his mail at Coupeville, Island County, or some place else? Well, I must close by asking to write soon. This from Father and Mother to Henry Sherman, son.

Note: Henry M. Sherman, 59-1/2 years old, died in Coupeville, Washington on 16 May 1902 of ill health caused by Civil War Army injuries.

Trenton, Missouri January 22, 1905

Well Billie and Family. After so long a time and not hearing from you, will write to you again. Me and your Grandma is still alive. I am enjoying very good health, but I and troubled with kidney and bladder trouble, but your Grandma is very weak and feeble, and a dreadful cough. She had a long bad spell this winter with her lungs and heart failure. We looked for her to die. The doctor said she was liable to die at any time. Well, your friends is all well in this country. Coon and Tom is living in Stansberry, Missouri running on the train and doing well. Gen and George is running on the railroad and lives in Trenton. Abe quit the railroad and lives in Trenton. Him and Bob lives by themselves and keeps (unintelligible). His wife died. Louis is running on the road. Ell is in Old Mexico running on the railroad last I heard of him. Charley Riger lives at Olney, Colorado, farming. I get no letters from your mother, nor Rosa. I would like to know where they are. I suppose they don't want to hear from us, so alright. We had the finest weather this fall I ever saw, and fine winter. So far had but one bad day about Christmas time. It was an awful blizzard. Is your Uncle Bill still out there? So Japan and Russia is having a fearful war. I am glad the Japs, after 6 months seize finally took Fort Arthur. I am in hopes the Japs will finally drive Russia entirely out of Manchuria. Well this country looks about the same as when you was here. Trenton has improved considerable. They built a fine court house this summer. Well Billie, write to me. I want to hear from you. Hope you will come to see us, for I am too old to come to see you. I am going to be 84 years since 6th of December. Write soon, love to all from your Grandpa and Grandma, to Grandson and Granddaughter, Washington.

Trenton, Missouri August 26, 1906

Well Billie, a long time. I will try to write a few lines. I forgot your post office address, and I hunted for your last letter, but couldn't find it. Today was looking through my old letters and found yours. I have been down with my back and kidneys ever since last April, and two months ago I got the erisiplis on both my arms and lost the use of my hands so I had to be helped, but they are getting better. Your Grandma died last April the 26th with dropsy, and I am left alone. She was sick a long time. Tom and Coon is at Stanberry, Missouri. Both engineers on the Wabash. Abe has quit the road and lives in Trenton. Louis, his boy is running on the Rock Island road and Bob, the cripple is a cigar maker in Trenton. George and Gene lives in Trenton and runs on the Rock Island road. Ell is in Old Mexico, runs on the road from Monteray to Saltillo on the Gulf of Mexico. They are all well and doing well. Lorra lives not far from Rocky Ford, Colorado. Charley is foreman on a big irrigation ditch, for a company, and your Mother, I have had no letters from for 3 years. She would not answer my letters, her nor Rosa, so I don't know where they are. I am living with Bell on the farm. Same old place, but will go to Stanberry to stay with Coon and Tom this winter. Trenton is a fine city. Now you would know the town or country. Where is your Uncle William? Are you farming. I would like to see you and family awful well, but guess I never will, for I am going on 85 now and can=t live much longer. Write soon to me. Don't forget. Your Grandpa F.L. Flesher

Frances Clara Flesher about 1890

Frances Clara Flesher

Frances Clara Flesher was born on 15 June 1856 in Palmyra, Warren County, Iowa. (Ref. 10) She was the first child of her father and his second wife. Frederick Lemon Flesher's first wife died when their fourth child was a year old. Two months later he married his second cousin, Almyra Ann Lemon. Fannie (as they called Frances Clara) was born 2 years later. They went on to have 11 more children, a total for Frederick of 16; 3 died as young children and 2 died as young adults. (Ref. 7)

Around 1867 the family moved to Grundy County, Missouri and acquired a farm. (Ref. 11) Fannie met Henry Sherman after he had returned from service in the Union Army during the Civil War and moved with his mother to Grundy County, Missouri. They were married in June 1873 in Trenton, Grundy County, Missouri when Fannie was 17 years old. (Ref. 8) Henry was working for the railroad. Their first child, Roselle, was born in September 1876. By the birth of their second child, William, they were living in Lineville, Wayne County, Iowa with Henry's younger brother, William, and both men were working for the railroad according to the 1880 U S Census. The family came to Colorado in 1882, probably to Trinidad. A photograph was taken in Trinidad, Las Animas County, Colorado around 1887 or 1888 of the two children. Henry Sherman, as published in the city directory of 1892, was working for the Union Pacific Railroad and living at 918 Rosita in Trinidad. (Ref. 12)

Henry and Fannie separated early in 1892. William, their son, chose to go with his father to the Pacific Northwest and they left in April 1892. Fannie never saw Billie again nor did she see any of his ten children. In October 1892 Fannie was divorced from Henry (Ref. 13) and she married Will Bowlden in March 1893. (Ref. 14) From this time forward she changed her name to Clara Frances and was known by this for the rest of her life. Her daughter, Roselle, 17 years old, was married in July, 1893 to Walter King who was 13 years older and a conductor with the AT&SF Railroad. (Ref. 14) The first few years without her children were difficult to adjust to for Fannie. Roselle had a baby boy, Earl Wayne in June 1894. They lived in Raton, New Mexico, which was quite close to Trinidad on the rail line so she was able to see quite a lot of them. Will Bowlden got a job as the manager of the Company Store at the Sopris Mining Location in Huerfano County, Colorado. In 1900 Roselle and Walter with son Earl were living in Picton, Huerfano County according to the U S Census. Two years later they moved to Pueblo and Walter went to work for the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad as a switchman. Roselle went to Sopris to be with her mother during her next delivery. A granddaughter to Clara Frances, Fay Lenora, was born in Sept 1902.

In the 1910 census, Clara Frances was in Pueblo, Colorado with Roselle, Walter and children. In 1912 Will Bowlden and Clara Frances were storekeepers on the Pima Indian Reservation near Mesa, Arizona. (Ref.15). From there they moved to San Diego, California where Will owned and operated a small grocery store. He died in 1921 and was buried in Mt. Hope Cemetery. (Ref. 16) Clara Frances moved back to Pueblo, Colorado to live with daughter Roselle and her husband, Walter King. All of her life she loved animals and had dogs, cats and other pets. She raised chickens in Trinidad for their eggs. Clara Frances died of uremia in St. Mary's Hospital in Pueblo, Colorado on 30 Nov 1929 and was buried in Mountain View Cemetery where grandson Earl King had buried his only son and first wife. "Soddie" Key Factor in Settling of Prairies of the West

Abraham Lincoln signed the Homestead Act in 1862, which made 160 acres of government land available to each homesteader.. After the Civil War many hardy souls flocked to Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado and South Dakota to settle on the homesteads. These areas were just wind swept prairies with little or no trees on them. The settlers, faced with securing building materials to build a house, built their houses of sod that was plentiful on the prairies and didn't cost anything but hard labor.

To get started, the homesteader had to mow an acre or two of tall grass, getting down to sod-thick turf that had tangled, matted roots. He would then hitch up a team of oxen or mules to a special plow called a "grasshopper" that gently turned over uniform strips of sod about a foot wide and four to five inches thick. He would chop these strips using a sharp spade or ax into blocks he could handle easily.

With a site selected, the settler went about building the walls of the house, laying the sod blocks like bricks with the grass-side down, moistened so the blocks would settle down more tightly on the layer below. Moisture also keep the dust down from getting into their eyes and throats. Often they built the walls as much as thirty inches thick using two or more courses of what was referred to as "Nebraska marble" blocks. There was no mortar to hold the earthen layers together, and the walls had to be thick enough to support a heavy roof and to withstand gale-like winds. They also acted like insulation for the cold winters and the hot summers. Openings were limited so as not to weaken the walls.

The roof of the "soddie" presented it's unique problems. If the settler had enough cash, he would purchase rafters and boards for his roof. Otherwise, he had to find a tree, usually growing beside a creek miles from the building site. He would cut it down, laboriously saw it into planks and transport the planks back to the soddie site. When he had his board roof in place and possibly covered with a layer of tar paper, he would plow up more sod from the prairie and place a layer on the roof with the grass side up. The sod cover helped insulate the house further from the heat of the summer sun and the cold artic wind of the winter. Often the roof sprouted weeds and occasionally a few wildflowers.

Laura Flesher Rieger, daughter of Frederick Flesher, and her husband, Charles built a sod house in Keyser, Colorado in the early 1900's. That may be where the family was living when her father visited and died on 9 Aug 1911. Below is an example of a "soddie". Few remnants remain of the early sod houses.

Example: This "Soddie" was built by these daughters of a ranchman
